TROUPE AND OVERTON.

S. N. Allen, Jan. 2: The Bishop saw fit to send me back to my old work. I enter upon my third year with this people. There is not a more kind-hearted, hospitable people in East Texas than the good people of Troupe and Overton Circuit. God bless them; they crowded the parsonage last night—New Year's night—men, women and children, and made the hearts of the preacher and his family glad. They called it a pounding, but it didn't stop at a pounding, for the amount brought was more than an ordinary pounding. Oh, at the good things to eat! Sugar, flour, coffee, meats, canned goods, and everything good to eat, and besides this nice dress and other goods for the preacher's wife and babes. Oh, how our hearts burned within us while we tried to talk and pray with our welcome guests. I am determined, by the help of the good Lord, to do a better year's work.

TYLER.

Viola Stallings, Jan. 5: In order to express our heartfelt thanks for our much beloved pastor's, Rev. T. B. Vinson, return we wish to pen a few lines to the dear old Advocate. We're indeed and in truth glad that he is to labor for and with us another year. It is our earnest prayer that the richest blessing of heaven be upon him and grand success crown his labors. If the Lord is with us much good will be accomplished, and well do we know that his promises are yea and amen; and he has promised to be with us alway, even unto the end, if we but trust in him. As a young people we have resolved that if we have failed thus far, while it is yet day we will take the shield of faith and the sword of the Spirit and fight bravely for Christ until victory is inscribed on each and all of our banners. Pray for us that this may be a grand and glorious year. I am all for Christ.

WHITE HOUSE CIRCUIT.

Arthur Downs, Feb. 1: I have completed my first round, preaching at all points except Noonday. Was frozen out there yesterday. My people have received me kindly. We have rented out the parsonage and hope to bring it out of debt by the end of the year. I am comfortably and pleasantly situated in the home of my Recording Steward, Bro. Joe Dabbs. There are eight Churches on this circuit, with a membership of nearly four hundred. Most of them in fair condition, and despite the general depression occasioned by short crops and business failures, we hope to make steady advancement along all lines of Church work. Would be glad if more of the Southwestern University boys would write to the Advocate. My postoffice is Flint, Smith County, Texas.

HEARN.—Mrs. Easter Lee Hearn was born in Wilson County, Tenn., January 6, 1827; joined the M. E. church at Walnut Grove, Tenn., at the age of fifteen; moved from there to Texas in 1853, and died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Shano, in Tyler, Texas, December 20, 1896. Her happiest days were spent attending Church and preparing to entertain preachers. Whilst visiting her a few days previous to her death, among the first words she said, "I am ready and anxious to go and be with those who have gone before." Few can feel the loss of this fallen relative more keenly than the writer. The ties of sisterhood and friendship that have been growing stronger and more sacred for nearly a quarter of a century have been severed.

MRS. J. M. HEARN.

Pirtle, Texas.

HOLLY.—Mrs. Idonia Holly was born in Van Zandt County, Texas, and died at her home in Tyler, Texas, January 17, 1897. She was married to George Holly in October, 1895; was converted and joined the M. E. Church, South, in girlhood, in which she lived a useful Christian life; so she was ready to die. She was perfectly rational until the last and talked freely about her prospects beyond the grave; said all was well. She said to the writer, "I have fought a good fight and kept the faith." She begged her weeping husband not to grieve for her, but to try to meet her in heaven. When we kneeled around her bed she prayed audibly for an easy passport from this to the other shore. Cedar Street Church has lost a good member, the husband a good wife, the children a good mother, but we feel sure that heaven has gained a jewel in Sister Holly. Her pastor,

TYLER.

B. H. Greathouse: As you know, I am in Texas again—this time at Marvin Church, Tyler, Texas. What a history this Church has had. It has been a struggle with debts ever since its erection. How much longer the struggle will continue no one can tell. At this time the great pipe-organ is not paid for, the pews are not paid for, the great cathedral windows that were wrecked in a storm are unrepaired, and besides all these things a debt amounting to at least $13,000 hangs over the Church, and more than one party could force a sale if the indebtedness they hold against the Church is not settled upon their demand. Within the last few months two banks and perhaps twenty other business houses have failed; but under all these discouraging circumstances there is a noble band of Christian men and women who are struggling to keep the old ship afloat, and I believe God will honor their faith, answer their prayers, and in some way lift this terrible incubus of debt from us. It is not possible for us to see how at this time, but in his own way the Lord will provide. Under the circumstances they have made a liberal assessment for my support and are paying in full as the months go by $125 per month. Bros. Newsom and Jackson have been here arranging a programme for the Epworth League Conference that is to meet here in April. We are glad the Leaguers are coming and will do our best to entertain all delegates and preachers at the least possible cost to them, as free entertainment is not asked for. Tyler will do her best, and we anticipate a delightful and profitable time.

WHITE HOUSE CIRCUIT.
F. A. Downs, March 8. Our first Quarterly Conference convened at Flint, March 8, Dr. John Adams, presiding. Reports showed five Sunday schools, no Epworth League, spirituality at low ebb, but with some encouraging signs; $36.10 for presiding elder and pastor in charge, and $30.50 for parsonage. Assessment for presiding elder, $65; conference claims, $155; preacher in charge, $400. We are indebted to Bro. Adams for three powerful, heart-searching sermons, and we trust they will be fruitful for much spiritual good. Two infants were baptized and two were received into the church.

LINDALE.

G. W. Riley, March 25: Our first Quarterly was held last Saturday and Sunday, with a good attendance and with good results. Dr. Adams, presiding elder, did some extra preaching. The financial results were good for the condition of the country and in the face of the hardest times these people have ever had. The Board of Stewards fixed the preacher's salary at the same figure as before. We are now well into our third year on this charge and with encouraging prospects for the best year of the three. We have had many substantial tokens of appreciation from the good people of Lindale charge since conference.

A GOLDEN WEDDING.

At 8 p.m., March 23, Dr. F. T. Mitchell and his noble wife celebrated their golden wedding in Tyler. The great auditorium of Marvin Church had been beautifully decorated by the ladies for the occasion. Promptly at the time appointed the venerable couple marched down the long aisle, preceded by the beautiful little granddaughter, carrying a basket of flowers. They stepped to the music of one of Mendelssohn's wedding marches, and Prof. Albert Schuh and the great organ seemed to do their very best to honor the occasion.

At the altar they were met by Dr. DuBose, of Jackson, Miss., who, in his own inimitable way, addressed them and had them reaffirm the vows they had taken just fifty years before when the now sainted Bishop Kavanaugh was the administrator. After Dr. DuBose's felicitous remarks, Dr. John Adams led in a delicately-worded, fervent prayer. Then came a speech by the pastor, who read a very pathetic letter—written for the occasion—by Dr. C. C. Woods, of Springfield, Mo., who said, among many other good things: "There has never been a moment in my life since I knew you that I did not hold you in one of the highest places of my soul. In my boyhood I held you in high regard, and as I grew older and marked your manly presence in the camp, and amid the shocks of battle through which the Lost Cause, so sacred to the memory of every true son of the South, fought its way to death, you grew upon me until I saw in you a sublime manhood; but on the rostrum and in the pulpit you have been more nearly my ideal than in any other relation."
Mrs. L. L. Jester then sang a beautiful, appropriate solo, after which the venerable groom delighted the great audience with a speech characteristic of the man and up to the mark of his reputation as an orator. The benediction was then pronounced by Dr. Finley, whose friends hope he may celebrate his ruby wedding in August. After congratulations were extended the guests repaired to the basement, where refreshments were served and an elegant reception was held.

At a late hour the audience dispersed with the best of wishes for the seventy-six-year-old groom and the sixty-eight-year-old bride.

The presents amounted to $176.50 in gold, and other things valued at $50. Letters of congratulation and friendship, which were appreciated as highly as anything, came from almost every State in the Union.

REV. W. N. BONNER.

Rev. W. N. Bonner was born in Hancock County, Georgia, October 1, 1806. He was converted at a camp-meeting in Baldwin County, Georgia, October 20, 1820. He joined the M. E. Church, South, at Bonner's Chapel, Cedar Creek Circuit, November 1, 1820. He was licensed to exhort in November, 1855, by Rev. Jeff Shook, and was licensed to preach October 5, 1856, by Rev. N. W. Burk. He was admitted on trial in the East Texas Conference at Rusk, Texas, in November, 1857, Bishop H. H. Kavanaugh presiding. He was ordained deacon in Jefferson, Texas, October 24, 1860, by Bishop J. O. Andrew and was ordained elder in Henderson, Texas, October 28, 1869, by Bishop W. M. Wightman. His ministerial life was spent in the bounds of the East Texas Conference. He was appointed to the Randolph Mission in 1857. At the next conference in Tyler, in 1858, on account of severe sickness, he was discontinued. During the period of the Civil War he was not in condition to serve the Church in the itinerancy. But at the session of 1869, in Henderson, he connected himself again with the conference and was appointed to the Douglass Circuit. The following year he was not present at the conference at Carthage "on account of special business for one of his sons," and was discontinued again. He joined again at Crockett, in 1871, and was sent to the Neches Circuit. The next year he was returned to the Neches Circuit and was changed before the year and was out to the Crockett Circuit. The next year he was sent to the Tyler circuit. At the next conference, which met in Marshall, he was made supernumerary. Several years after he took the superannuated relation, which he held at the time of his death, in Tyler, Texas, March 28, 1897.

Thus closes the earthly career of a devout man and a useful preacher of the gospel of Christ. He gave his life and influence to the cause of God and died loved and honored by all who knew him. He built up a fine character, enjoyed the life and power of religion, served his own generation by the will of God and passed to his everlasting rest in heaven.

He married Miss Martha Ellen Wade, by whom he had nine children, and at the time of his decease left about one hundred lineal descendants. His children grew up, making useful members of society and the Church. Three of his sons became distinguished in their chosen professions and shed luster upon the family name.

He was licensed to preach when considerably advanced in life. What is quite phenomenal, was admitted into the traveling connection when quite a venerable man. Several things conspired to break the continuity of his itinerant life. Yet for a quarter of a century he was a member of the East Texas Conference and labored both diligently and efficiently to build up the interests of Methodism.

The closing years of his life were spent in Tyler, and during this period he contributed much to the enlargement and prosperity of the Churches therein.

He died on Sunday morning, March 28, 1897, being ninety-one years of age. He was buried from Marvin Church the following day, Rev. B. H. Greathouse, the pastor, preaching the funeral sermon. He was buried in Tyler, so long his home, and peacefully awaits the resurrection of the just. He has gone to join the loved ones who have passed on before and to reap the reward of the faithful and the good.

TYLER.

J. M. McCarter, April 17: St. Paul's Church, this city, is in the midst of a revival meeting. Results to date: church revived and sinners awakened. Rev. S. N. Allen, of Troupe and Overton Circuit, has assisted us during most of the time and will be with us through the following week. We have the honor to serve a kind and noble people. Our reception among them has been as royal as could be asked. This is their second year as an independent pastoral charge. They are harmoniously and zealously working and are sanguine as to their future career. Much honor is due to the excellent and faithful band of ladies which constitute our Ladies' Aid Society. They have been organized but a few weeks, but have already carpeted the aisle and rostrum, had an elegant chancel built, and will ere long add other improvements to our new and beautiful church. Our Sunday-school is a gem. Other interests doing well.

TROUPE AND OVERTON.

S. N. Allen, April 23: We are moving upward nicely, we think, on this work. The Sunday-school at Troupe has determined to have a new organ for the Church, and like all progressive Methodists they went at it. Our most worthy superintendent and his noble wife gave an ice cream supper the night of the 22d instant, from which they realized $8.00 in cash the first attempt. We have a progressive people—God bless these good people. We begin a revival meeting at Troupe the 1st of May, and we must have a revival. To your knees, dear brethren, for it must come that way. Our Sunday-schools are looming up all over the work, and this is good signs of spiritual life. A Methodist band can do anything they want to.

GILBERT.—Bro. Franklin Rush Gilbert was born August 6, 1830; was baptized in infancy; professed religion in 1852, and fell on sleep April 6, 1897. Bro. Gilbert lost his left arm in the late war. He was a faithful soldier, true to his country, true to his Church and a faithful man in every department of life. He had been a great sufferer for a long time. About twelve months ago he lost his voice and could not talk, but he would write on a slate, and his conversation was always about Jesus. The last time his pastor visited him he wrote on his slate: "I suffer out my three score years until my Deliverer comes and wipes away his servant's tears, and takes his exile home." There can't be too much said about Bro. Gilbert. He was always in his place in the church. Know ye not that there is a prince and a great man fallen this day in Israel? For he was a good man, full of the Holy Ghost and of faith.

TROUPE AND OVERTON CIRCUIT.

S. N. Allen, May 21: We closed a two weeks' meeting at this place the 14th inst.; had a good meeting—the best we have had since we have been with this good people. The good Lord came down in answer to prayer and blessed the Church and converted the sinners. The results are as follows: Thirteen conversions, four reclaims and nine accessions to our Church. So far the Church is greatly revived. To God be all the praise. Bros. D. L. Cain and T. B. Vinson were with us and did some of their best preaching. The good Lord ever be with these brethren. They are both as true as steel; fighting sin with both hands. We serve as good people as there are in the world. We are greatly encouraged. Bless the Lord. Six more meetings to hold. Pray for us that the good work may go on.

Clark—Baird.—At the residence of the bride's brother, Mr. Thomas Baird, four miles west of Tyler, Smith County, Texas, at 3 p.m., May 22, 1897, Mr. K. W. Clark, of Chandler, and Miss Ellen Baird, of Pleasant Retreat community, T. B. Vinson, officiating.

FLYNT.—Melvina Flynt was born June, 1839; professed religion and joined the C. P. Church at eleven years of age; was married to R. P. Flynt in 1855; was the mother of four children—one of whom preceded her to the glory world. When she came to Texas, some fifteen years ago, she united with the M. E. Church, South, at old Union Springs, now in the bounds of the White House Circuit, where she lived and labored for God and humanity until May 24, 1896. Then she was not, for God took her to himself. It was the privilege of the writer to be her pastor for six years, and it was never my privilege to know a truer or more faithful and devoted Christian woman. But the whole Church and community feel their great loss; but our loss is her gain; for to her to live was Christ, and to her to die was gain. Let all meet her. Farewell, Sister Flynt.

T. T. BOOTH.

LINDALE.

G. W. Riley, June 29: We closed a nine days' meeting last night at this place. We were assisted by Bros. S. N. Allen, T. B. Vinson and Presiding Elder John Adams. The preaching was strong, forcible and spiritual. The Church was greatly blessed and strengthened. Fourteen new members were received by ritual and ten by letter.

Stallings—Knight.—At the residence of the bride's mother, in Tyler, Texas, on June 20, 1897, at 2:30 p.m., Mr. John N. Stalling and Miss Lutitia Knight; all of Tyler; Rev. W. C. Stallings officiating.
S. N. Allen, July 1: Troupe and Overton Circuit is still in the ring and doing work for our Lord. Our second Quarterly Conference is a thing of the past. Only one day's service, but we had a good meeting. Our elder did some of his good preaching, to the delight of us all. Finances behind, but we think everything will come up all right in the end. The good women of the Woman's Missionary Society met with our Church here the 16th of June and left an influence that we believe will do great good. They organized a society at this place that we think will be a great means of grace to us. God bless the good women! If it weren't for the good women I don't know what would become of our Church. No town will lose anything by having the Woman's Board meet with them. They did all good who attended. We have six meetings yet to hold, and hope to have a glorious revival all over the work.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, July 15, 1897, p. 15, c. 1-2

SHUFORD.—Dr. J. W. Shuford was born in Catawba County, N. C., June 8, 1847, and departed this life June 11, 1897, at his home two miles south of Tyler, Smith County, Texas. He graduated in medicine in Baltimore, Maryland, in 1868, and came to Smith County, Texas. He was married to Miss M. J. Smith on June 15, 1869. He professed religion in North Carolina and united with the M. E. Church, South. He united with the same Church by letter, soon after coming to Texas, under the ministry of Rev. J. S. Mathis. It may be truthfully said that in all the relations of life, Dr. Shuford was true, noble and generous. He ranked among the very best citizens of his community and county. He was a man of honor and integrity, and enjoyed the esteem and confidence of a large circle of friends. I have known him intimately for twenty-eight years and never knew him to condescend to an ungentlemanly or to an un-Christian act. He was the very embodiment of honor and veracity under all existing conditions. Dr. Shuford was a provident man and always provided well for his family. He loved them with a perfect devotion and endeavored to provide for all of their necessities. He leaves a devoted wife, six children and a large number of relatives and friends to mourn his departure. He said during his last illness, which continued for over two months, that his peace was made with God and that he believed the Lord would take care of his family. He suffered a great deal during his sickness and yet endured it all without a murmur. He had filled continuously the offices of steward and recording steward for more than eighteen years with great efficiency and acceptability. He was held in high esteem by his brethren and was repeatedly elected a delegate to our Annual Conference. He was a man of earnest piety and thorough consecration, without ostentatious parade and self-pronounced encomiums. His life was a constant declaration of his devotion and love to God. He loved the Lord, he loved and honored the Church. He was the friend of his pastor—always advocated liberal provision for his support and was willing to pay his part. A noble Christian man has fallen and passed into the beyond to meet two of his little boys and other loved ones who preceded him to heaven. He heard the call of the Master and we believe was ready to go; his house was in order. His wife and children will sadly miss him. The Church and Quarterly Conference of which he was a member for years will miss him, but we feel that our loss is his gain, and while we are made poorer, heaven is richer. May the Lord bless his sorrowing wife and children, sustain them by his grace and bring them all into that state of reunion with husband and father in heaven. Farewell, husband, father, friend and brother, but not forever. We hope to meet thee again.

NELSON F. ELLIOTT—N. F. Elliott was born February 23, 1863; departed this life July 4, 1897. Bro. Elliott was converted and joined the M. E. Church, South, in July, 1881, and a great part of that time he served the Church as Church Secretary. He was a good man—faithful to his Church. He had been a great sufferer for a long time. That awful disease called consumption was what preyed upon his vitals. We miss him, but our loss is his gain. We will meet him again, thank God. Bro. Elliott leaves a broken-hearted wife, with three little boys, and an aged father and one brother and sister and a host of friends to mourn for him. Look up, dear wife and loved ones; we will soon see Bro. Forest on the bright shores of eternal glory, where death never can come.

TYLER DISTRICT.

This conference convened in its fourteenth annual session at Grand Saline, Texas, July 8, 1897, at 9 o'clock a.m.

John Adams, presiding elder, opened the conference with religious service. The lesson, the talk, the prayer, were an inspiration.

. . . The brethren were all in good heart and made encouraging reports of their work. Only a few of them have held their protracted meetings; the others will hold them during the summer and fall. The reports of the pastors show that the district is enjoying a good degree of spiritual life. The brethren seem to be working, praying for and expecting a revival. Bro. Adams has done much to encourage and help them in this direction. He talks to us and prays for us and inspires us to expect great things of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Along the lines of finance, through behind, we are somewhat in advance of last year. We insert the following from the report of the committee on financial systems: "We find that those charges where they have adopted the assessment plan and pay monthly that 41 2/3 per cent of the preachers' salaries have been paid; where the assessment plan has been carried out, though collected only quarterly, 31 per cent has been paid; but where there has been no assessment plan of any kind, only 11 per cent has been paid." These figures are worthy of careful study. They certainly show, by actual experiment, that the disciplinary plan for raising the Church's money is the best.

The following brethren were licensed to preach: Henry B. Urquhart, of Marvin Church, Tyler; Charles T. Pledger, of Athens Station; Alfonza Nolan, of Tyler Circuit; E. H. Lovejoy, of Troupe and Overton Circuit, and Francis H. Galusha, of Emory Mission.

. . . The preaching was spiritual and good. Our new Tyler man, B. H. Greathouse, is a great fellow. He is a regular preaching machine. His sermon on Sunday morning was one of the finest we ever heard. Everybody fell in love with Greathouse. East Texas Conference may well count herself happy that she has such a man.

Tyler District Epworth League.

The second session of the Tyler District Epworth League Conference was held at the M. E. Church, South, Grand Saline, Texas, July 6 and 7, Knox Henderson, President in the chair. . . . The reports showed a decrease in the number of Leagues, there being only three Leagues in the district. . . . We elected officers as follows: President, B. F. Yancy, Wills Point; First Vice-President, D. L. Cain, Ben Wheeler; Second Vice-President, Miss Annie Broyles, Tyler; Third Vice-President, Miss Josie Cage, Mineola; Secretary, Miss Mattie Smith, Mineola; Treasurer, Mr. Knox Henderson, Athens.

TEXAS COLLEGE.

No doubt the readers of the Advocate are aware of the struggle Texas Conferences of the C. M. E. Church in Texas are now undergoing to erect an institution of learning within the reach of our membership in Texas. Paine is too far away to do us any good. It will cost the girl or boy one year's schooling to get to the school. Thus the necessity of erecting a school at home (in Texas). The membership in Texas are paying into the treasuries of other denominations from $5000 to $40,000 annually. Some of our girls and boys, too, are in the Catholic school at Houston. We must educate them somewhere. We can not exist well without a school in Texas. We have moved in that direction; secured 101½ acres of land adjacent to the city of Tyler, Texas, valued at $8000 or $10,000, with few small buildings upon it. All the indebtedness, except $1200 yet due, payable in from one to two years and due January, 1898, and May 14, 1899. We have just closed the third term, the best in the history of the school. We can not accommodate our membership with the room we have. We desire to erect a girls' dormitory, 96x36x28 feet, with chapel 36x50; dining-hall, 22x28; two recitation rooms, 14x18, upstairs for the girls' dormitory. We need financial aid and ripe experience; therefore we have decided to have an advisory board of some of the leading members of the M. E. Church, South, to assist us both in building and planning for the permanent organization or planting Texas College at Tyler, Texas. Several of the brethren have consented to act as above outlined. Several of the District Conferences have taken up the matter, discussed and resoluted, or will memorialize the ensuing Annual Conferences upon this subject. We pray and trust God that the leaders in Texas Methodism of the M. E. Church will move in this direction. Brethren, we need your advice and financial aid. Who will take up the subject and help us carry it to victory's gate?

I am yours in the cause of Christ, the race and Texas College, C. M. E. Church in America,

LINDALE.

G. W. Riley, Aug. 14: We have held three meetings in the last three weeks on this circuit. At Mt. Sylvan we had a great revival; twenty-five of thirty conversions, twenty accessions and the Church greatly blessed. Rev. S. N. Allen assisted me in the meetings. Forty-six accessions to date since the 1st of June.

TROUPE AND OVERTON.

S. N. Allen, Aug. 13: We closed a good meeting at Bethel last night. Results: sixteen conversions and reclamations, with ten accessions to our Church and the Church greatly revived. Bro. J. M. McCarter, of South Tyler, and Bro. W. N. Brown did us some of their best work. Bro. Brown is a worthy local preacher of our work. God bless these good men. We have four other meetings to hold. Pray for us. We serve a good people.
F. A. Downs, Aug. 14: My first meeting began at White House July 10. I reached it from the District Conference July 12. We continued until Friday night. The Lord blessed us. That part of the Church which attended our meeting was revived and five were added to our flock. The community was put to thinking. We opened up at Flint the following Saturday night and ran on until Thursday night. Two professions, no accessions. The Church somewhat revived. The next week we were at Liberty Hill. A good work was done in the Church. Some old Feuds were buried and good will and peace prevail. There were some accessions and professions, but I do not know the number. From there I hurried on to Walnut Grove, to my third Quarterly Conference. Attendance very good and session enjoyable. Times are hard and finances behind; but we trust "it is better further on." The meeting was protracted. Our presiding elder remained with us and preached five times. We had one conversion Monday evening. Tuesday evening, at the close of the service, one young man lingered in the altar, asking us to stay with him. We stayed. He was soon converted, and soon three others were earnestly seeking; but they didn't seek long. Jesus came in power and there was rejoicing in the little band that had remained to sing and pray. Surrounding a few faithful ones, I baptized two and received four into the Church just twenty minutes before midnight. We were reminded of Paul and the jailer. As the meeting continued others were saved and the Church wonderfully revived. There were seventeen accessions in all. Closing there Friday night, I hurried across the country to Chandler, twenty miles away, to begin Saturday night. Here the fight was hard. Webbism, Campbellism, devilism and sensualism have so infested the place that our work was greatly hindered. There were no professions and the door of the Church was not opened. Our band at Chandler is small and beset with peculiar difficulties; yet a few are faithful, and the future is not without promise. I go to Bullard to-morrow, the next Sunday to Noonday, and then to Love's Chapel—three more weeks, and the campaign will be over. The Lord has blessed and preserved my strength, and I am happy in the work. The experience of a young pastor during his first revival season is varied. Joy is mingled with grief—now he is on mountains of ecstasy because his people are being blessed and their children saved; now he is in valleys of despondency because it appears that the devil is on the winning side. He remembers that the people once refused to hear even Christ himself, and he endeavors to get very close to his Savior's side, where he can weep with him over a ruined world. We can offer men salvation, but we cannot force them to accept it. To all my young brethren in Texas, especially those whom I know personally, I send fond greeting. Let us study to show ourselves approved, workmen that need not to be ashamed, enduring hardness as good soldiers. Methodism has a mission in our State. Let us carry her banners in to the very heart of the struggle. I have had no regular help in my meetings. Several brethren have assisted me as they had opportunity. To all these I am profoundly grateful.

S. N. Allen, Aug. 21: The good Lord is doing great things for us, whereof we are glad. Closed a meeting at Fountain Head yesterday at 4 o'clock. We closed with the sacrament. The Lord was there in great power. Had thirty-five conversions and reclamations. Twenty-five joined our Church, and more to come. We were assisted by Bros. T. B. Vinson, of the Tyler Circuit, and W. N. Brown, local, of this work. Those worthy men did us good work. God bless them. The Lord is with them. We go to Jarvis to-night. We must have victory there in the name of the Lord. We take courage and go on. Pray for us.

TROUPE AND OVERTON.

S. N. Allen, August 30: Our third Quarterly Conference met with Jarvies Church the 28th inst.; had a good meeting. Our presiding elder, John Adams, was on hand in the Spirit and preached us three fine sermons, to the delight of us all. Finances a little behind, but the brethren talked very encouragingly, so we take courage and go on. We have had a good year so far. We serve as good people as ever lived. There are only a few things in the way that keep this from being one of the best works in the conference. This is our third year, and if the Bishop sees fit we won't move yet. The man who follows us will find a good people.

WHITESIDE.—On a beautiful Sabbath day, the 25th of July, our loving Savior looked into the home of J. N. and Hester Whiteside and saw their eight-year-old son suffering with fever; and we can imagine seeing him throw open the gates of the New Jerusalem and gather about him little Isaac's angel brothers and sister to welcome him where there shall be no more scorching fever, but where all is bright and glorious. Just before leaving mamma and papa he raised his little hand and said: "There is a pigeon," and asked his little brother Johnnie to catch it. Perhaps it was the flutter of an angel's wings come to bear his spirit home. He then told them he was sleepy, and sure enough, but it was the sweetest sleep he had ever slept. God moves in a mysterious way his wonders to perform. The writer has never seen a brighter child. When his name was called at Sunday-school he would always rise and recite his verse nicely, and up to his death never had an absent mark. Papa and mamma, live for God and you will meet again.

TYLER.

M. B. A., Sept. 11: For the year 1897, so far, we have much to praise God for. While the year commenced with gloomy forebodings, and has continued so, almost paralyzing our every effort for good in the Church, yet we feel that God overruleth all for good, and will bring us safely over the rough and stony way. Bishop Hendrix was with us in the Spring, and, as all good bishops do, told us not to become discouraged on account of the condition of things. That he once heard a little story like this: Two frongs fell in a jar of milk, and they began to paddle for life, but after a while one became discouraged and sank to the bottom to be no more, while the other, with brave heart and courage, battled on, and every stroke he made bridged the awful chasm lying across his pathway to conquest, and soon he found himself sitting on a great big golden cake of butter. So now, fight on, and become not discouraged, and I doubt not God will open up some way for victory. And we feel that he will, with such a pastor as we have at the helm. Truly he is a great man and preacher, as well as a Greathouse. How beautifully he teaches us that living well to-day is the best any one can do, and all that is required of us. How he admonishes us not to live in the future, but always in the present, and if we live wisely, there need not be any anxious concern for the morrow. Like Bishop Hendrix, who tried to impress upon us that the value of the future depends entirely upon the value attached to to-day; that there is no magic in the years to come that is not felt by the power of God to-day in the hearts and lives of the men and women who are true and faithful to God and the Church. For nothing can bloom in the great beyond that is not sown on earth; and that the great aim of Christianity is not to teach men of the glory to be revealed in heaven, but to teach them the sacredness of living the life that now is, and, by doing the little deeds of every-day life, attain unto greater things of the future, for there is no future outside of ourselves; it lies within us, and we make it what we will. For whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. We hope, through some kind providence, to save our beautiful Church, which is to be sold next month. To this end we are hoping and praying. Bro. Greathouse commences next Sunday night a series of lectures on Roman Catholicism, which will last throughout the week. We doubt not that they will be very beneficial in our town, and will result in great good to the public, as he is thoroughly posted on the subject, having given it great care and study. Quite a number of our young teachers will be in attendance. We hope to wind up well for the conference year.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, September 30, 1897, p. 7, c. 1

LINDALE CIRCUIT.

G. W. Riley, Sept. 20: We have just passed our third Quarterly Conference for our third Quarterly Conference for our third year's pastorate of Lindale charge. Some comparative figures may suffice to show our status at this point. We began the work in January, 1895, with two hundred and seventy-four members in charge. We received that year forty-one, and the next year twenty-four, making sixty-five in two years. We removed by letter and otherwise in the same two years fifty members, leaving a net increase of fifteen. We have received the present year up to date sixty-two members, nearly as many as in the two years before. Further comparison shows that in the two years we baptized thirteen infants and twelve adults, while this year we have, to date, baptized fourteen infants and twenty-one adults. The wisdom of prolonging the pastoral term to a third year may be seen in the results. Our finances so far this year are badly behind, with little hope of much improvement. There is unusual dearth of money with our people, and consequent unusual discouragement to stewards, and a general relaxation of effort is to be feared. The financial result of this, the great revival quarter, has broken the minimum record. However, we are to have a rally of the stewards of the charge five weeks later, on the fourth Saturday in October, by order of the Quarterly Conference, and we hope to make improvement in the outcome for the fourth quarter.

RICHARDSON.—Joel F., infant son of W. M. and Susan Richardson, was born February 20, 1896, and died of cholera infantum in Tyler, Texas, September 7, 1897. After intense suffering, after anxious watching and waiting, after all had been done that could be done, the dark-winged messenger came; but, thank God, the bright-winged angels came, too, and we are persuaded took the little one to their eternal home, where Jesus is. "I take these little lambs," he said, "and lay them in my breast. Protection they shall find in me; in me be ever blessed."

Tipps—Yarbrough.—Near Whitehouse, Sunday, Oct. 3, 1897, Mr. J. E. Tipps and Miss Maggie Yarbrough, all of Smith county, J. W. Griffin officiating.
ALDERSON AND TANT DEBATE.

Our E. W. Alderson, of North Texas Conference, and Elder J. D. Tant, of the Campbellite Church, held a four-day's debate here at Troupe, commencing Oct. 4. The following propositions were discussed:

1. Infant baptism authorized by the word of God. Alderson affirmed.
2. Baptism in water to the penitent believer is for, or in order to, the remission of all past sins. Tant affirmed.
3. Effusion, to a proper subject, by a proper administrator, is Christian baptism. Alderson affirmed.

This debate was a great victory for Methodism. Our Church is vindicated before the people. They know why we believe. Our Church is built of such timber that every piece will stand a close examination. When she has such a man as Alderson behind her doctrines, she gains credence from the world. There is no comparison between Alderson and Tant. Alderson is a dignified, refined Christian gentleman. As a scholar he stands in the front ranks. As an orator he has a strong voice and commanding person. These, together with his other gifts, make him a most charming speaker. Elder Tant, we can assure you, is a man versed in all the tricks of the floor. He knows how to dodge a question, and, in dodging, try to gull the gullible by making them believe that in dodging he has answered a strong, masterly argument. The Campbellites should always have their funeral requiem prepared ready for singing before they have one of their men to meet Alderson, for after one of them has stood before him for a few hours there is nothing left but the "wreck" of an ecclesiastical corpse. When any of the brethren are troubled with the "debating folks," if they can be so fortunate as to secure the services of E. W. Alderson, they may afterward rest in peace for a season.

TROUPE AND OVERTON CIRCUIT.

S. N. Allen, Nov. 8: The fourth quarterly meeting convened at Troupe on the 6th. The elder (Bro. Adams) was on hand in the Spirit and did some good preaching. We were all delighted with his sermons; finances a little behind, but we are hopeful yet, as we have one more month to run on. As to the collections, we have not failed for years to pay out on this circuit, and we think we will pay out yet. We serve a good people. We have one more year, if the Bishop don't get after us. The man who succeeds us on this work will be delighted to find so many good folks.

ROBERTSON.—Mrs. Evaline Robertson was born in Bedford County, Tennessee, January 14, 1822. She came to Texas in 1850, and in 1851-2 she was married to George McRight, who lived but a short time. In 1853 she married William Robertson, who died in 1857. Two children were born to her, a son who died in 1879, and a daughter who still lives. The greater part of her life was spent within the bounds of old Larissa Circuit. She did not know the date of her conversion, nor how long she had been a member of the Church. The closing years of her life were attended with much affliction. Her last sickness began in March, but she lingered till the 15th of May. Loving hands ministered unto her, and would have retained her, but she was anxious to go. She loved her Church and pastors, and the Advocate especially. Hers was a long and blameless life.

STITH.—Willie C. Stith was born in Henderson County, June 29, 1860; was raised in Tyler; joined the Methodist church about eleven years ago. He was a skilled mechanic and engineer, and met death by accident with a train in Tyler, Texas, Sept. 27, 1897. He was a kind husband and father, and a good neighbor. He leaves a wife and little boy, and an aged mother, to mourn his untimely death. May they trust the God of all grace for consolation.

GINN.—Pinkney Vinson Ginn, infant son of J. J. and Sallie E. Ginn, was born July, earth was short, in heaven it will be eternal.

BROYLES.—Miss Delia Broyles, daughter of Dr. I. M. Broyles and J. A. Broyles, was born February 14, 1846, in Alabama; lived in Tennessee and North Carolina; and departed this life in Tyler, Texas, September 12, 1897. A good part of her life she was a great sufferer. At eight years of age she fell on the ice, and received a hurt that made her a cripple all her life.
After she was grown she was in a railroad wreck, which increased her suffering for the remainder of her days. Much of her time she was confined to her bed; the writer never saw her anywhere else. At an early age she was converted and joined the Methodist Church. Her religion was a great stay to her during her seasons of suffering, and many Christians learned lessons of patience and trust at her bedside. Quietly and peacefully she went to sleep in Jesus.

G. W. Riley, Nov. 25: To-day was a pleasant and memorable occasion in Lindale. The Thanksgiving service was held in the Methodist church, under the management of the faculty of the Lindale High School. An appropriate programme was rendered by the scholars, under the direction of the President, Pro. D. C. Lake, whose address to that congregation was timely, well chosen and entertaining, as is characteristic of that noble Methodist layman. The sermon of the occasion, delivered by Prof. Duncan, of the faculty, a Baptist minister of marked ability, was unique, short, well considered, up to date, full of profound thought and devotional spirit, and was elocutiously delivered. This pastor and family were the recipients of many tokens of respect and appreciation in the way of thank-offerings—dress patterns, goodies for the children, and a cash present of five dollars from a devoted young lady and mother. We are thankful.

TROUPE.

S. N. Allen, Dec. 4: Troupe and Overton Circuit is still moving on grandly; a little behind with the finances, but we are still receiving quarterage. Our people dislike to come out behind. The preacher who is sent to this work will find as good people as he ever served. Our Women's Missionary Society in Troupe observed the Week of Prayer as the programme directed, from which they received $4.45. This scribe had the pleasure of attending their services, from which we received a blessing. The night of Thanksgiving we preached for them; had a good service. Our good women went to work to raise money to get a new organ for our church at Troupe. Some thought they would fail, but to-day the day came to the church, led by some of Troupe's good women, with as nice an organ as I have seen for the money. God will bless the good women. I close my third year with these people. I might have done more, but the good Lord has greatly blessed us together.

WHITE HOUSE CIRCUIT.

F. A. Downs, Dec. 13: My first year's work in the ministry has ended. I leave for conference this evening. About three-fourths of the preacher's allowance has been paid, and two-thirds of conference assessments. Times are very close, and the "circulating medium" very much contracted. Many have done nobly, some more than could have been reasonably expected of them. Members received, sixty-two; dismissed, sixty-one. Nineteen adults and sixteen infants have been baptized. These are visible results. Of the work of the deeper spiritual forces we can take no account. Only the judgment day will reveal it. I have been treated with great kindness, and many words of encouragement have cheered my heart; for all of which I am grateful.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, December 23, 1897, p. 10, c. 2

(East Texas Conference) Rev. C. F. Moore, of the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church in America, addressed the conference in the interest of Texas College, located in Tyler, Texas. The Bishop followed him in a brief exhortation, wherein he indorsed the institution and urged the brethren to assist it. Rev. D. F. C. Timmons superintended the collection which followed. We are gratified to know that our Texas people are taking a deep interest in the educational and spiritual interests of the colored people.

Rev. J. M. McCarter brought his bride to the conference, and received the congratulations of the brethren. The Advocate wishes them a long and useful life.

LINDSEY.—Little Vi. Lindsey, daughter of Mrs. Ella Lindsey, was born March 17, 1894, and died in Tyler October 16, 1897, at the home of Bro. Louis Richardson. She was a bright child, full of life, and made the home happier by her presence, being the only little one in the home. But hurriedly she was taken away by membranous croup. The home is darker now, but we think another star is added to the glory world, which we shall behold after awhile.

SPRUCE.—Little Jessie Ellen Spruce was born July 29, 1895, and died October 15, 1897. This sweet babe was the pet of the home. None is so sweet as the baby. The whole family must kiss her good night and at the first bright awakening smile in the morning. A home without a baby is not so happy. This little darling was the light and joy of the home of J. D. and Lula Spruce. Oh! how we miss her. Her parents dedicated her to God in holy baptism at eight days old. We kissed her good-bye and laid her to rest, and look forward to that sweet day when we will look into her bright face on that shore where we will never say good-bye. Look up, fond parents and little brothers, sweet little sister only waits for you on the other shore, where the smiles of the Lord is the feast of the soul.

S. N. Allen, Jan. 1: Happy New Year! This beautiful, bright morning of the new year we received three boxes and a sackful of good things. They come from Overton. It was a pounding, I believe it is called. The good people of Overton sent us so many good things it made us feel happy and praise God. Then we felt sad—first, because we had done so little for them as a pastor; second, because we will have to leave such good people at the end of this year. May the good Lord help us to do more this year in his name than ever. God bless the good people of Overton. We are in a meeting at Troupe with our Cumberland brethren. They are holding in our church, and we have got hold with both hands, saying, amen! and doing all we can to get some one saved. May the Lord give us a good meeting and many souls.

HORTON.—Lessie Ona, infant daughter of Bro. and Sister John Horton, after eight weeks' lingering illness passed away Dec. 10, 1897. She was one year and eleven months old. Lessie was a little sufferer the greater part of her short life, but now her pain is over. This is the third flower that has been transplanted from this home to the fields elysian. One more little lamb has Jesus folded to his bosom, to be shielded forever from the biting cold and wintry blasts of our old world of sin. May the bereaved parents, brothers and sister one day be as securely sheltered in the Master's peaceful fold.

BARTON.—Died, November 4, 1897, at Tyler, Texas, Edric Evans, the infant son of Bro. and Sister P. Z. Barton. Little Evans, as we were wont to call him, was a child of premature devotion; and while we were allowed to see his innocent face and hear his voice only for the short space of sixteen months, he was a favorite with both old and young, and was almost idolized by his fond parents. God alone can heal the wound inflicted by this stroke of his providence. The grief-stricken parents may remember that "the Lord is good, and he knoweth them that fear him." Although their darling has been snatched from their embrace, they may still see the little hands beckoning them to a better world, where they shall soon meet their little one, who is safe in the arms of Him who said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

TYLER CIRCUIT.

G. W. Riley, Jan. 7: We spent the Christmas holidays pleasantly at Lindale. We were remembered substantially by some of the country members with whom we had spent three years, and now must part. On the last day of the old year we moved to Tyler, into a rented house for parsonage for Tyler Circuit. We are comfortably housed, and supplies are rolling in from the circuit. Sunday was a cold day, but good congregations greeted the new preacher at Starrville and Antioch. We are entering upon our twentieth itinerant year; may it be a year of great grace and good results. Our past year was fruitful in the largest net increase in membership since coming to East Texas. May the present surpass it.

WHITE HOUSE

M. I. Brown, Feb. 2: We have made one round on our new charge. The weather has been favorable, and we have met a creditable congregation at every appointment. We rejoice that a good feeling has been manifested in our services. Our people seem to be warm-hearted and appreciative. They know how to make a boy preacher feel free and happy. We feel the responsibility of feeding and leading this large flock of God. May the Spirit of our God help us to realize the importance of being wise and harmless. We have set to work reorganizing Sunday-schools, and are pulling up some on that line. We pray that this may be a revival year, of light, and peace, and salvation, throughout our entire borders. A revival at every appointment should be the battle cry of the pastors, and consequently of the Church at large, this year, or, rather, the burden of earnest, daily prayer.

WILEY.—Charles T. Wiley was born in Alabama, December 4, 1837; removed to Smith County, Texas, in 1849, and died at his home, ten miles north from Tyler, February 16, 1898. Bro. Wiley was converted and joined the Southern Methodist Church early in life, and was one of the best and noblest stewards in the Church until death. He was a safe counselor and leader in all the public interests of the community in which he lived. Truly a good man has gone from among us to the spirit world.

FINLEY.—The subject of this sketch, Mary Hawkins (Cole) Finley, daughter of Richard and Sarah Cole, and wife of Rev. R. S. Finley, was born in Lafayette County, Alabama, October 13, 1817, and departed this life in Tyler, Texas, March 5, 1898, being eighty years, four months and sixteen days old. At the age of fifteen she professed religion and joined the Methodist church, in which she lived till the last. She was greatly devoted to her Church, one of her last requests being that her dues to the missionary society and her subscription to the missionary papers should be kept up. At the age of twenty she married Rev. R. S. Finley, who is now eighty-two years old, and a superannuated member of the East Texas Conference. During the days of her husband's active ministry she was a great help to him. Having graduated at a good school in North Carolina before she was married, she was competent to teach, which she did when her husband's salary was meager. In one town in Alabama Bro. Finley got just enough for his preaching to pay their house rent, but at the end of the year she had money enough to buy a negro. By industry and economy they accumulated a little fortune, but it consisted largely in negroes and was swept away by the war. Of this she did not complain, but in the struggle for support stood bravely by her husband, who for a time took up the practice of medicine. Some time after the war he went again into the itinerant ministry. When age required him to superannuate he was in comparatively easy circumstances, for he had again accumulated a competency; but in an evil hour he invested his money in bank stock and lost it all. Through this severe trial in their old age Sister Finley passed with her usual heroism. She stood by her husband, who seemed physically weaker than she, like a ministering angel. When she was taken with her last illness she seemed more concerned about her husband than herself. Perhaps the last intelligent act she performed was to put a bed spread over him. She came as near filling Solomon's description of a model woman (Prov. 31) as any the writer ever saw. She was the mother of eleven children, nine of whom she raised to be grown, eight are living still. She was justly proud of her large family, and their children arise up and call her blessed. On the 21st of last August the citizens of Tyler gave her and her husband a reception at Marvin Church, that being the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage. The affair was a credit to them and showed how highly they are appreciated where they have lived so long. A noble specimen of the noble old type of Southern ladies has been taken from us. Her end was peaceful. She went to heaven while her friends were singing, "How Firm a Foundation." In the language of Dr. McFerrin, she sent a message to my wife that is equally appropriate for us all—"you know where to find me."

Dr. R. S. Finley, of the East Texas Conference, is visiting his son, Judge Finley, in Dallas, at the present time. The Doctor is quite feeble, and much pained on account of the loss of his estimable wife. He is a noble veteran, whom all Texas delights to honor.

TROUPE AND OVERTON CIRCUIT.
S. N. Allen, April 18: The second Quarterly Conference for this circuit is a thing of the past. It met the 16th at Omen, with our presiding elder in the chair. Finances short, but we are hopeful. Every appointment represented but one. Our presiding elder, Bro. Adams, did us good with his sermons. God bless Bro. Adams. We serve a good people and when we think of the fact that we will have to leave them we are sad. We have learned to love these people so much. We are trying to do all the good we can. We want to hold a meeting at Troupe next month. Would ask all the readers of our grand old Advocate to pray for our success.

LINDALE.

A Member, April 12: The last session of our conference, which met at Palestine, saw fit to send us for our pastor Bro. J. W. Bridges. He and wife arrived soon after conference, and went direct to the parsonage, and was soon ready for his work. He went to work in earnest, preaching and visiting the members of his Church. The result of his labors to date is already seen in the large increase of his congregations at every service. He is both a good preacher and a good pastor. Every service is a spiritual feast to all who attend. Our first Quarterly Conference has past. The stewards made a liberal assessment for our pastor, and paid about one-fourth of his salary. We are pressing onward and upward, and expect our pastor to be able to make a full report on all lines at the end of our conference year. Our church was beautifully decorated for Easter services by the good ladies of our Church, and the sermon delivered by our pastor at 11 o'clock was indeed an eloquent and soul-stirring sermon. We are praying for and expecting a great revival at Lindale this year.

Negro College—This is an enterprise started in the city of Tyler, Texas, under the auspices of the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church in Texas. Rev. C. F. Moore is its Commissioner and Secretary. All the late conferences of the M. E. church, south, in the State, were visited by colored representatives of this institution. Calls for money were made, eliciting noble responses. Pivoted on the success of this college depends much of the hope for ennobling the colored race in Texas. It deserves our sympathy. Its promoters ought to, and must have, the hearty co-operation of the M. E. Church, South, in Texas.

SWINNEY.—Sister Dora Swinney was born March 5, 1858, in McNairy County, Tennessee, and came with her parents to Texas the same year and settled near old Bascom Chapel, seven miles southeast of Tyler, Smith County, Texas. She was the daughter of Uncle Caleb and Aunt Elizabeth Smith, who are well known and faithful members of the East Texas Conference. Sister Swinney was converted under the ministry of Bro. John S. Mathis when she was twelve years old and joined the M. E. Church, South, at old Bascom, where she held her membership until she was called to the Church triumphant. She departed this life March 17, 1898. Sister Swinney loved her Church and took great pains in training her children in Sabbath-school work and to love the Church and her ministry. Her house was a home indeed for any and all of the preachers. Sister Swinney was truly a servant of the Master, of the Church and its ministry until the Lord said: "It is enough; come up higher." She now rests from her labors and her works are now following her.

REV. ROBERT SMITH FINLEY, D. D.

Robert Smith Finley, son of James and Keziah Finley, was born in Jefferson Finley, was born in Jefferson County, Alabama, February 28, 1816, but was principally reared in Green County. He was the sixth son of a family of six sons and four daughters. In a brief autobiography that I have before me he says of his father that "he was a man of fine sense and mature judgment;" and of his mother that "she was a true wife and faithful mother." His early educational and religious advantages were quite meager, but he became a man of broad information and extensive reading. His wife, who enjoyed superior educational advantages for her day and sex, was quite helpful to her husband in his literary achievements. From his own pen we learn that his father was well advanced in years before the introduction of religion into the family. The diary recites that an older brother of the subject of this sketch, Hugh Montgomery Finley, was converted at a camp-meeting and became a missionary to the family, leading all to Christ and into the Church. This brother soon after became a most promising preacher, but died early. Dr. Finley was converted in the fifteenth year of his age. In his twentieth year was licensed to preach, and the same year, 1836, entered the Alabama Conference of the M. E. Church, South—with which he became identified from its inception. Before me lie his license to preach and credentials for deacon's and elder's orders, all well preserved, but somewhat faded from the lapse of three score years. The license to preach, under date of June 10, 1836, bears to the writer the familiar signature of Asbury H. Shanks, an eminent minister and lawyer, as he knew him on his first pastoral charge at Rusk. The deacon's orders are signed by Bishop Thomas A. Morris, January 6, 1839; the elder's orders bear the familiar signature of Bishop James O. Andrew, whose name is affixed to the ordination papers of the writer, and among the last ever issued from his hand, as he retired from the active duties of the episcopacy the following spring, April, 1866. Dr. Finley was a man of fine physique, nearly six feet in height, of symmetrical build, weighing about 170 pounds, with a clarion voice, and passionately fond of singing and preaching. He was a man of easy, dignified manner and flowing speech, rising to the sublime and reveling in a flame of gospel light and power. His preaching was topical rather than exegetical. A man of ardent temperament, warm, personal friendships, but not universal in his attachments. For eighteen years he served in the Alabama Conference, filling prominent positions. In that conference he was associated with H. N. McTyeire and J. C. Keener, afterwards Bishops; also T. O. Summers and P. P. Neely. In 1854 he was transferred to the East Texas Conference, and in this conference he served to the time of his death, excepting three years in the Trinity—now North Texas—Conference, and a few years during and immediately after the war, when he had no pastoral charge, and one year was local. In his conference he was ever a conspicuous figure, guiding in its deliberations and filling the most important charges as presiding elder of Palestine, Rusk, Marshall and Tyler Districts, and pastor of Palestine, Marshall, Jefferson and Tyler Stations. His diary shows that he took charge of the Marshall Station in 1869... Three times he represented his Church and conference in the General Conference; was President of the Joint Board of Publication of the Texas Christian Advocate, an associate editor and able contributor to its columns; was President of the Board of Curators of the Southwestern University, and from this institution received the well-deserved degree of Doctor of Divinity. Rich and ripe in years, in honors, in grace, and in usefulness, he followed in quick succession to the glory world his companion and counterpart, the helpmeet and stay of his life, who, under God, was largely the secret of his success and usefulness. Of her let him speak for himself, in his just estimate of her worth: "I have never doubted that God, in answer to prayer, gave me Mary Hawkins Cole to be my wife. If my career of forty-four years in the ministry (at the time of that writing, but over sixty at the time of their deaths occurring just fifty-one days apart) has been successful, much of the credit is due her. Her fine, cultivated mind, financial skill, untiring industry, profound piety, and never-failing devotion to her husband and his ministerial work, made home a paradise and labor recreation." He further adds: "Our religion has been an undergirding arm of power, on which we have leaned and found comfort and safety." On the 21st of August last they celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage—their "ruby wedding." United in life, they were not long separated in death. On the 5th of last March she entered into rest, and with impressive services and loving hands was laid away in the Tyler Cemetery. The stricken husband was brought by his son, Judge N. W. Finley, to his home in Dallas, where he received every kindly attention that love could bestow. To the writer and his wife it was a privilege and benediction to visit their venerat ed friend in his closing days. Bowed under his recent sorrow, when told that the separation would not be long, he said, with much emotion: "And I don't care how short it shall be." The most precious season was in having prayer with him, when, not as aforetime, but with faint voice, flushed cheek and streaming eyes, he once more gave vent to his old-time familiar note of triumph, "Hallelujah!" which had so often rung out in his exstatic [sic] moods, and with electric effect upon his congregations. In a few days he entered the sleep of death, terminating his eventful life on the 25th of April, 1898, and was carried by his children to Tyler for interment, and with imposing and impressive services, in which the pastor, B. H. Greathouse, Bros. Mitchell, Timmons, Fowler and Irving (of the C. P. Church) participated, he was affectionately laid to rest beside his loving, faithful wife. And well may we say,

"Servant of God, well done,

Rest from thy loved employ;
The battle fought, the victory won,

Enter thy master's joy."

In his last illness he was attended by many ministerial brethren, Bros. Rankin, Hughes, Thompson, Cummins, the writer and other friends and members of his immediate family. He leaves eight children and about seventy-five grand and great-grandchildren, with a legacy, not of gold, but, what is far better, a good name, well-spent life and bright hope of heaven. It was his joy to see his children all settled in life—some filling conspicuous positions and all striving for heaven. May the ascended patriarch draw Godward and heavenward his numerous family and friends.

WARD.—D. E. S. Ward (nee Holcomb.) Sister Ward was born in St. Clair County, Illinois, August 20, 1820. Her parents moved to Claiborne Parish, Louisiana, in 1821. She was married to C. P. Ward in 1838. She united with the Church when young. She has a husband and two children who preceded her to the better land. She leaves one son, J. F. Ward, six grandchildren and one great-grandchild to mourn their loss. Her house was the home of weary itinerant preachers as well as others. Mother Ward was a good woman; served her generation according to the will of God. Lord, she was thine and not my own. Thou hast not done me wrong. I thank thee for my mother thou has blessed me with so long. We will meet over the river by and by. Mother Ward died May 10, 1898.

TROUPE AND OVERTON CIRCUIT.

S. N. Allen, June 1: We are still in the ring on Troupe and Overton Circuit. We began a meeting the first Sabbath in May; ran three weeks; results, ten converted, four joined our Church. The Church was greatly revived. Bros. C. W. Cross, of Mineola, and J. G. Pollard, of Henderson Circuit, were with me the first week and did us good with their able preaching. The second week we had Rev. R. H. H. Burnett, of Oak Cliff, who did us good work. The third week we had Rev. J. C. Carr, of Kilgore, who did us some of his very best preaching, and did us good. Many thanks to all of these brethren for their able work. Rev. M. I. Brown, of Whitehouse Circuit, came over and did us good by helping in the singing and praying. We are moving on very well on this work. Our good women of the Home Mission and Parsonage Society showed their appreciation for the meeting by giving us a good pounding during the meeting, which was greatly appreciated. Some preacher will get a good people as his pastorate next year, as the law won't let this scribe stay any longer with them. May they get a better preacher than the one they have now. We hope to have a good year.

TYLER.

W. W. McAnally, July 8: During our stay among the Cedar Street people we have been kindly remembered by them in the way of poundings more than once, besides many helpful little donations from time to time; and on the night of the 6th inst. the climax was reached. Soon after dark we heard the rumbling of little wagons, and saw a large crowd of men, women and children advancing, and to our satisfaction we learned from the laughter that no harm was meant. They appeared to need no reception, but marched right in, took possession of the dining-room, unloaded and returned into the front rooms and porch, where we all enjoyed a social hour. We then assembled again, read God's Word, and bowed together in humble prayer. When all were gone, we found the supply almost if not quite complete, from a cake of soap to a sack of flour and large ham, and still it comes in. For all these things we are thankful indeed, and hope to be able to more successfully minister to them in holy things.

UNCLE DICK AT ATHENS AND TYLER.

The Tyler District Conference was very interesting. We did not approve all that was done nor the manner of doing. One man was licensed to preach who had been expelled from the Church for gross immorality not two years before. There was no question as to his guilt. This he admits, and everybody knows. Now to relicense such a man is undoing all that the Annual Conference did. The District conference becomes a court of appeals—a court higher than the Annual Conference—and reverses what the Annual Conference did. This can not be right. Really it is questionable whether a preacher should ever be restored to ministerial position who has deliberately practiced immorality and at the same time kept up his ministerial work. Will not some of our preachers write on this subject? Why not Dr. Pierce? The man spoken of was elected by a very small majority.

Bro. Adams, presiding elder, and Bro. Pledger, preacher in charge, gave the Orphanage the right of way, and the people gave us a patient hearing, and the preachers listened to us as though they never heard our song before. The collection was not large but creditable.

Bro. Greathouse allowed us to go to Tyler and occupy his pulpit on Sunday. The congregation was not as large as common, they say, and the Sunday-school was only moderate in size. They have a splendid church building, but, alas! it is about to pass into other hands, and it is likely to be a total loss to our people. Why not mend past blunders by buying this house again?

We asked the people to help the orphan children, but they are so discouraged about home affairs or something else that the collection was very small. It may be that I failed to present the matter in a proper light.

We were glad to see the cheerful face of Dr. Mitchell and wife in the congregation. May God permit them to live long and bless the Church. Dr. Shuford, Bro. Cherry and his good wife gave us a hearty welcome to their happy home. These are friends of thirty years' standing. They are true and tried. Many old friends greeted us and gave us words of cheer. Home again. Thank God for a home!

TROUPE AND OVERTON CIRCUIT.

S. N. Allen, August 13: We are moving on very nicely on this work; have held four meetings, with considerable success; have had about thirty to profess conversion; twenty-six have joined our Church up to date. Our third Quarterly Conference just passed; had a good time in the Lord. Our presiding elder was on hand as usual, preaching with power. It seems to me that dear Bro. John Adams preaches with as much power as ever. He will do for the place he now fills for several years yet unless he fails very rapidly. Finances a little low, but the good brethren say they will come up all right. The good Lord has greatly blessed us this year with a good crop. This is our last year on Troupe and Overton Circuit. Some preacher will get as good people as he ever served. May the good Lord and the cabinet send them the right man in the right place. There are some things to contend with, but that right man can meet them easy enough if he will have the fort.

BUTLER.—Dr. S. L. Butler was born in Harrougate, Ala., April 13, 1851. He came to Texas with his father at the age of ten years. He graduated at Tulane University in 1874, and began the practice of medicine in White House in the fall of 1874; was married to Miss Lucy Lee, December 10, 1874; moved to Bullard in 1889, and practiced there one year, after which he moved to Omen, where he lived until he moved to Troupe in 1892, and died July 18, 1898. He leaves a wife and six children, one brother and one sister and a host of friends to mourn his departure. A good man is gone. He gave God his heart in 1874. He stood by his preacher and Church. He often expressed himself during his illness in language like this: "My soul is growing fat in the Lord." The Church has lost a good member, the community a good man and physician and citizen, the family a kind father and husband, but we will look up. He is not gone forever. We will see him again. He awaits us over the river.

KILLION.—Died May 24, 1898, P. T. Killion at the home of his youngest son, Milton, aged seventy-six. He was born in Blount County, Ala.; came to Texas at nine years of age; lived in Anderson County, where his father was killed by the Indians. He leaves six children and several grandchildren to mourn their loss. All his children are members of the Methodist Church, the Church he loved so well, having been a consistent member fifty-six years. He died as he lived, in love with all men and his Redeemer. His last conscious words were to the audience at a prayer-meeting just a short time before his death, and as he approached the chilly waters of death his face lit up with a heavenly smile, and he requested all who would meet him in heaven to give him their hand. Saint and sinner responded. I never saw a more impressive scene. He was interred at Liberty Hill Cemetery. His grave was left covered by flowers brought by the little children. Oh! how sad to part with him for a short time, but we will meet all after awhile. By one who loved him and nursed him.

LINDALE CIRCUIT.

J. W. Bridges, September 3: Our protracted meeting season has passed, and while the results were not what we desired, yet we feel that much good has been done in the name of Jesus Christ. The Church is in a better condition than it was before the meetings were held. We were assisted in our meetings by Revs. W. W. McAnally, b. H. Greathouse, B. C. Ansley, C. H. Smith, W. F. Mayne and A. G. Scruggs. All of the brethren did faithful work, and we now extend to them our thanks and gratitude. During the year nineteen have professed conversion and fifteen have joined our Church by letter and profession of faith. We are very pleasantly situated at Lindale. The work is a pleasant one to serve and if the Bishop says so, we will return here another year. We expect to go to conference with everything paid in full.

WHITE HOUSE CIRCUIT.

M. I. Brown, September 5: I have just closed my round of protracted meetings. The revival season has been an occasion of joy and profit to us. We have had some very successful meetings. About one hundred persons have been converted and reclaimed, with sixty-two accessions to the Church. We think others will join the Church soon. A considerable per cent of the membership has been greatly revived and is in a better working condition than ever before. We think permanent advancement has been made on most lines. So we predict better days for White House charge in the future. A great many good people live in the bounds of this charge. By their kindness to us they have won our affections. Several of the preachers of this district have been very kind to us in assisting us in our meetings. They have our sincere thanks. We shall never forget them.
G. W. Riley, September 3: Last night I closed my last of seven meetings for the seven Churches of Tyler Circuit in seven consecutive weeks; had the efficient help of A. Little five days, B. H. Greathouse two days and W. W. McAnally two days, besides the presiding elder and local preachers have been helpful to the work. Results: A good revival in every Church except Starrville, and there to some extent, with about thirty-five conversions in all, and good progress made on the collections.

DOROUGH.—Robert Toombs Dorough was born in Oglethorpe County, State of Georgia, March 18, 1839, and died in Tyler, Texas, July, 1898. From date of his birth to date of his death, what stirring scenes, what mighty events occurred! The tremendous issues involved were both national and religious. The results growing out of these issues entered into individual and home life, wrecking or building up each according as the grace of God was used or not used. Looking back over the past, we recall some who went down in the awful struggle that tried men's souls. We recall also many whom nothing could slake from their steadfast purpose. They illustrate the possibilities of a human soul when the question is settled to do right. The subject of this obituary belongs to the latter class. Bro. Dorough was a noble layman and served his day and generation with a manly and earnest devotion. General Robert Toombs, of Georgia, saw in him the strong-minded and splendid manhood, though yet a youth, and sent him to college. He remained in school with credit to himself, and would have completed his collegiate course, but serious and continued sickness in his father's home caused him to give up the fair prospect before him and return to care for the family. To read of the devotion to those dependent upon him is an inspiration. The death of his father placed in his care four single sisters to be educated. This he did by giving up his own opportunity to complete his education, both in a military and literary school. When the Civil War broke out he was among the first to enlist; was elected Captain of his company, sent to Virginia, and as one of Stonewall Jackson's men fought on from beginning until Lee sheathed his sword at Appomattox. At nineteen years of age he professed religion. The devotion he had for home and country, he laid it upon the altar of God and the Church. Here he never flinched. When the war closed he returned to his native State to find her cities burned, her fields laid waste, and her sad and weary people well-nigh in hopeless despair. Nothing deterred him. He began at once to serve God and to build up his impoverished land. In Carnesville, Ga., he commenced his work as an official in the Church. In 1870 he moved to Tyler, Texas. The first Sabbath after his arrival he united with the Church and was given an official relation. For more than twenty-seven years he was steward. Whatever work the Church assigned him he did with his might. It is worthy of note that his home was ever the home of the orphan, relative and stranger alike. An excellent lady, now married, says: "I lived in his home as an orphan for eleven years, and during all that time he never spoke an unkind word to me." A short time since while stepping from a moving train he received an injury that resulted in his death. He said to his oldest a son a few days before he died: "I am hurt much worse than you all think; I shall never get well. I am prepared to go." Thus this noble Christian layman lived, and "he died well." I was once his pastor. For four years I served him and was quite intimate with him. During that period, or since, I have never heard a word that would in any way reflect on him as a member of the Church or a man of business. He was a man of fine disposition—he was a man of fine disposition—happy with his family and friends, affable, placable and courteous in his manner. He always appeared to me as a man who was right before God, and he knew it. He was neither patronizing nor apologetic, but transparent, modest and courageous. A stranger on meeting him would not possibly know his creed, but would recognize him as a religious gentleman, courteous, punctual, generous. If it be true that every man we met in some way mingles with our being and modifies it, I see no reason why any man should regret having met Bro. R. T. Dorough. But his work is done. He has fallen on sleep. He has ascended upon high. He is at home at last. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn their loss, but he has left them the heritage of a good name. If they but follow Christ as he followed him, "some sweet day" they will meet to part no more.

AN APPEAL.

Dearly Beloved—At the last session of the East Texas Conference Rev. B. H. Greathouse, pastor of Marvin M. E. Church, South, Tyler, Texas, requested the conference to appoint a committee to visit Tyler for the purpose of looking into the financial condition of said Church, and when, in their judgment, the membership of Marvin Church had done their duty in trying to pay off the indebtedness on the church, to make an appeal to the Methodists of Texas to help save the building.

The building cost $60,000; something over $40,000 has been paid by the people of Tyler. Immediately after its erection three wealthy members died, and many others were completely wrecked in the financial panic that soon followed, in which three banks and about forty other businesses failed. When the committee was appointed in December last the debt on the church amounted to $21,435.94. In January it was sold under execution and brought $9000. The purchaser generously proposed to sell it back to us for what it cost her, which was the amount she had held against the church, secured by first mortgage; but we found that the Church could not buy the building back and hold it, for there were other judgments hanging over it to the amount of $12,416.49, and this amount it was impossible for the congregation to pay; so it seemed that this great house was lost to Methodism. But at this juncture our creditors, who held the judgments for $12,416.49, came to our relief. Knowing the great reverses that had overtaken the Church, they agreed to take 10 per cent for their claim. Thus encouraged the congregation made an effort to settle all the old debts and buy the church back. They have succeeded in paying off the $12,416.49 old debts and have bought the church and paid $1300 as first payment, leaving a balance of $7700 due. They are taking subscriptions now and doing their best, but are unable to reach the end. Your committee, after carefully looking into all the facts earnestly, appeal to our friends for help, and sincerely hope that the members of our united Methodism will not allow this great building to pass out of our hands after our Tyler people have made such a heroic effort to save it.

Let the money be sent to Rev. Thos. R. Pierce, D. D., Dallas, Texas; or Rev. B. H. Greathouse, Tyler, Texas, and the amounts will be acknowledged in the Texas Christian Advocate.

COMMITTEE.

We take great pleasure in endorsing this appeal. We believe that this is one of the times when a congregation in perilous circumstances is justified in appealing for help to the Church at large. But for unforeseen and unfortunate circumstances this extraordinary step would not have been necessary. The devotion and self-sacrifice of the Tyler Methodists deserve to be recognized. The Methodists of Texas could render this assistance without even feeling it, and we sincerely trust that they will do so.—Editor.

TEXAS COLLEGE.

The illness of Mrs. Moore prevented me from giving a synopsis of our Texas College project. Our building is completed and ready to be furnished. Bro. Mulkey has sent in $35.00, or so, to furnish a room. Are there not others among the readers of the Advocate who will assist me in furnishing fifteen of the rooms in Texas College? Twenty-five dollars will furnish a room. Those who furnish a room will have their names printed over the transom of the door. Will not some minister secure a sufficient amount from his congregation to furnish a room? If any one wishes to contribute to this furnishing fund, you may send it to Dr. T. R. Pierce, Dallas, Texas.

We visited a few of the District Conferences of the great M. E. Church, in Texas.

We met a warm reception at the Sulphur Springs District Conference. Bro. Johnson introduced us to that great and good man, Dr. Fladger, the gifted and efficient presiding elder. The brethren and sisters donated $12.30.

Pittsburg was our next place. Bro. Smith and his brethren secured for us and Texas College $6.25.

On to Athens we went. The venerable and fatherly Dr. John Adams, presided in this the Tyler District Conference. Drs. Greathouse, Mitchell and Bro. Adams made speeches in the interest of Texas College. Bro. Adams urged and urged again his people to take care of Texas College. Bro. Adams subscribed $5, to be paid October 1, 1898, on furnishing rooms and dining-hall. His people gave us $10.90.

The Paris District gave us, through Dr. Jamison, $17.

We have ordered the furniture to furnish the girls' dormitory. We will need some assistance from the readers of the Advocate. Our school will open on the 5th of October; boarding hall on the 3d. We raised this summer about $800.

SCOTT.—The subject of this sketch, Sister Parrilee Scott, whose maiden name was McKinney, was born in Mississippi, October 24, 1867. She was converted and joined the M. E. Church, South, at the age of sixteen years; was married to R. A. Scott, of Saline County, Arkansas, February 19, 1888, and moved with her husband to Texas in 1892. The writer knew her only a few weeks. She was in the last stage of that fatal disease, consumption, when we first met, but we learn she has lived a consistent Christian since she untied with the Church; has been faithful to her Church vows, consequently to God and man. The writer visited her frequently during the short time she was with us. She often requested us to sing and pray with her. I have never seen one so perfectly submissive to the will of God. A few days before she left us we were singing one of her favorite songs. She could not speak above a whisper, but she tried to join us in singing, and she desired strength to shout the praises of God.

RICE.—The subject of this obituary notice, Mollie Rice, was born September 28, 1858; passed into the great beyond July 29, 1898. She was the wife of Ernest H. Rice, who resides near Chandler, in Henderson County. She was married to him on November 7, 1893. She was the daughter of G. P. and M. A. Rowland, who live at Troupe, Texas. Her death, no doubt, was a great relief to her, as she had been a sufferer for quite a while from consumption. She was a member of the Methodist church at Chandler, and was a devout Christian. I visited her not long before her departure, and found her confidently trusting God, and patiently awaiting his will. During the prayer service she became so happy that, notwithstanding her extreme weakness, she could not refrain from rejoicing. Her patience and happiness in severe affliction bears testimony to the sustaining grace of Christ. She leaves behind a weeping husband and a bright little girl, Adda. Among her last words were: "Good bye; meet me in heaven, and take good care of my babe."

GOUGH.—The subject of this sketch, George Gough, was born in England, October 30, 1836, came to America in 1852. He was united in marriage to Miss Rachel Hobson, of Salem, Iowa, July 9, 1879. He was converted in early manhood and joined the Baptist Church. After his marriage he attended the Quaker Church with wife for some years. He moved to Tyler in the latter part of 1897, and became a faithful attendant upon the services of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at Liberty Hill, two miles east of Tyler. He seemed to enjoy the services of the Church very much. Some of his children were converted and joined the Church at our revival meeting at Liberty Hill last summer, which seemed to afford him great joy. He seemed to be conscious that his end was drawing near some weeks before it came, and asked his family not to be troubled about him. A few days before his departure, which occurred September 26, 1898, in family prayer he earnestly committed his wife and seven children to the care of a kind providence.

TROUPE AND OVERTON CIRCUIT

S. N. Allen, P. C., Nov. 8: Our fourth quarterly meeting for Troupe and Overton Circuit for our fourth year is a thing of the past. Our presiding elder was on hand, in the Spirit, and did us good with his great sermons. We had a good Quarterly Conference. The charge is [sic] We are happy to believe that we will pay out by conference. Our collections nearly all in sight, we think. We are happy to believe that we will report out, or nearly so, at least. We are sad when we think of leaving this people, we have learned to love them so much. God bless this good people. Some preacher will get as good people to serve as the Lord's sun ever shone on. I will meet many of them in heaven. When we serve a good people four years and learn to love them, and have to leave them, it makes us more determined to get to heaven, so we can meet them where partings will never come. It matters not where they send us, our prayers will remain with this people, while we go determined to love another people. I feel very happy to-day, because I feel that I am in the hands of the Lord.

SCOTT.—Little Fred Scott, son of S. B. and Mary Scott, died at his home at Tyler, Texas. He came and brightened the home for four years and then went away. He was always delighted to attend Church and Sunday-school. He was of an inquiring disposition, loved to talk about God and heaven. This he did as he neared death. He asked his mamma many questions about being good and going to heaven. He was baptized at the age of ten months by his now sainted grandfather, Rev. Patrick Scott. Sam and Mary, don't weep for Freddie. He is waiting at heaven's gate for you. Former pastor,

Dr. John Adams is the venerable sub-Bishop of Tyler. Though advanced in years he is a well-preserved man and wears a face of freshness and intelligence. He has evidently rendered the Church long and valuable service, and he is good for years to come. He is possessed of a fine mind, and affable spirit and a temperament of remarkable buoyancy. He is one of the leading men of the conference—and to know him is to love him. There is about him a benignity of expression and a modesty of deportment that command the respect and love of all the brethren.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, December 15, 1898, p. 3, c. 2

B. H. Greathouse has shown fine ability in his management of the Church at Tyler. He is not a handsome man; in fact, he is otherwise, but back of that rugged face there is a bright, penetrating mind replete with resources. He is one of the very best preachers in the conference and the brethren love him.

W. W. McAnally is rather a small man, with dark hair and complexion, and with a mouth reminding one of the late Dr. D. R. McAnally, the great preacher and journalist, of whom this brother is a distant relative. He is a good man, full of faith and good works.

V. A. Godbey comes of a brainy family, and he has inherited much of that gray matter from ancestry. Physically, he is well built, strong and muscular. He has a large and a well-poised head, fronted with a face of rare excellence and gentility. His voice is deep-toned and musical. He is said to be a preacher of more than ordinary gifts and grace, and if he continues studious and humble, he has before him a future of rich promise.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, December 15, 1898, p. 3, c. 1

D. F. C. Timmons was late getting to conference on account of sickness in his family. He is a man rather low of stature, heavy build, with a kindly face and a genial manner. He is an edifying preacher and one of the most painstaking pastors in the conference. He is a popular member of the body.

Report of the Committee on Spiritual State of the Church to the Bishop and Members of the East Texas Conference

8. In that intense spirituality so necessary to convert men from sin to a life of holiness, it is very generally thought that we have suffered a decline. It is to be feared this opinion is in a measure correct. This would seem to be true from the small increase in numbers for the last few years.

1. This decline in spiritual power is thought by some to be due to an inordinate desire for numbers, leading pastors to admit into the Church scores of unconverted persons. It is to be feared there is some truth in this position.

2. It is charged by some to evangelism. This is hardly true, for it is this that called for the evangelist. He came, but found himself unequal to the task of restoring spirituality to the Church. He rather increased the evil.

3. It is thought by some to be due to the discussion of holiness. This is hardly true, because this decline existed prior to such discussion, and likely helped to bring on such discussion.

4. It is thought by some to be due to the want of discipline. This is hardly true, because it is the very cause of such want of discipline and renders discipline impossible.

5. It is thought by some to be due to rings and parties, especially among ministers. This cannot be true, because all rings and parties in Church circles are bred by this very low state of spirituality. The truly spiritual man neither forms rings nor joins such when formed.

6. It is thought by some to be due to the want of faithfully preaching the cardinal doctrines of the Bible. But, in the judgment of your committee these were never more faithfully preached than now.

7. We are inclined to the opinion that the one cause at the base of this decline is the strong tendency to confound religion and morality and make them one and the same. This leads to discount a clear-cut and well-defined conversion, and leaves the doctrine of the new birth without meaning. Without this doctrine Methodism has no power, no life, no right to live. In addition to this, or grow in out of this, is that superficial theology that relatively magnifies the love of God and dwarfs his justice. A God who loves so much that he cannot be just will never control men. To this again add the widely circulated belief in a future probation. If men believe they can become holy in another life they are almost sure not to be holy in this life. What is called higher criticism, whether true or untrue, has for the present no good influence on spiritual life. These views are widely circulated and much read.

TYLER—CEDAR STREET SUNDAY-SCHOOL

Inclosed [sic] you will find list of the little children of Cedar Street Sunday-school, who so cheerfully gave for the Orphanage last Sunday, the amount being $2.69, which I turned over to the preacher in charge. After a short talk on the duty of giving, I requested each of the little children to give me 10 cents, or any amount they could give, for the Orphanage, promising them that I would take each one's name and amount and send it to the Christian Advocate for publication. When I told them that I would have it published, they were so well pleased over it that we could hardly take names and amounts down fast enough. If you will be kind enough to publish the names and amount on the list I send you, I think it will encourage them a great deal.

Class No. 6—Minnie Long, $1; Tom High, 10c; Hellen High, 10c; Herbert Johnson, 10c; Pearl Riley, 10c; Jennie Bain, 10c; Nettie Wellons, 1c; Mabel Wellons, 1c; Walker Richardson, 10c; Clay Richardson, 10c; Lonnie Rivers, 10c; Oral Rivers, 10c; Graddie Thomson, 5c; Baldwin Campbell, 5c; Leta Moore, 10c; Irene Moore, 10c; Bertie McMuray, 5c; Merton Braddy, 2c. TROUPE AND OVERTON.

W. J. Owens, Dec. 28: After a pleasant and profitable stay of three years with the good people of New Boston we were sent to the Troupe and Overton work, where Rev. S. N. Allen has been pastor for four years and is still in the hearts of this people. Wife and I reached here the 23d instant, and as our household goods had preceded us we moved at once into the parsonage. Yesterday evening, after a very kind and pressing invitation, we took supper with Rev. H. B. Urquhart, one of our local preachers, and his family. After supper, which was sufficient for a king, Bro. Urquhart remarked that he had an appointment which required his attention, and very politely excused himself, stating, however, that as he was going in the direction of the parsonage we could go together. When we got in sight of the parsonage we saw that it was all lighted up, rooms full of people, who were singing praises to the Lord. We were ushered in, introduced, taken to the dining room, where the table was loaded with many good things in the way of eatables too numerous to mention here. Bro. Urquhart, with well chosen words and in his princely way of doing things, made a speech of welcome. We then engaged in prayer. The affair was very social, pleasant and profitable. These are noble people. Surely our lines have fallen in pleasant places. Our reception has been hearty and cordial. May the Lord bless our labors this conference year.
WHITE HOUSE CIRCUIT.

B. C. Ansley, Jan. 4: After a trip of forty miles by wagon we arrived just at 12 o'clock and were kindly received; found a good, warm dinner awaiting just across the street from the parsonage, and while unloading and straightening out things after dinner were invited by another good sister to take supper, and on the evening of the next day it began to rain, and such a shower we had not seen for a long time. It rained sugar, coffee, beans, soda, pickles, potatoes, milk, sausage, flour and other things, so that this preacher and family are now living on the fat of the land. I hear nothing but good of our predecessors, which makes us hope to have a pleasant and profitable year. These people will stand by their pastor. I am just home from my first appointment in the work, which was at Chandler and Noonday. Had very good congregations at both places, notwithstanding the weather was very cold. Came home with $5 in my pocket, which was needed and appreciated. We like our new home. There are a great many on the Grand Saline work we have learned to love and hope to see again. We hope if any of them look upon these lines they will not forget to pray the good Lord's blessings on me and my work. I intend to do all I can for the Advocate, and I find it to be the best help one can get where properly distributed among the people. Would it were in every Methodist home in Texas.

OGLESBY.—Octie Velu, daughter of Bro. and Sister S. C. Oglesby, was born January 6, 1888, and died at their home in Flint, Texas, November 12, 1898. She was a sweet-spirited, intelligent child, insomuch that to know her was to love her. Strange God would take such tenderness and innocency away from us! Yet the Lord doeth all things well. He who can patiently wait and say, "Thy will be done," will meet loved ones in the sinless summer land. Little Lula, as she was called, was the idol of her father's home. She was greatly loved by her little schoolmates, as was shown by the way her teacher and schoolmates attended her and carried her flowers during her sickness. We would say to father, mother, brothers and sisters, be faithful and one day you will meet little Lula around the great white throne above.

A FRIEND.

TYLER CIRCUIT.

S. N. Allen, Jan. 10: At the last Annual Conference Bishop Galloway read me out for this circuit, as I could not go back to Troupe and Overton Circuit any more; so I am in the parsonage at Tyler; haven't got round yet, but have met a great many of the brethren at our first quarterly meeting which met last Saturday, the 7th instant. Had a good quarterly meeting. They put the new preacher's claim at $505. Every Church was represented except one. We are learning to love these people already. They shake hands like they loved their preacher, and nothing makes a preacher feel more thankful to the good Lord than to feel like his new people are pleased with him. The Lord has been very good to us always—bless his name. We are expecting a good year and we know the Lord will give it to us if we will do our duty. Oh, my brethren, to your knees and let's have a revival at every appointment. Our presiding elder, dear Bro. Adams, was on hand in the Spirit, and preached Saturday, but said he thought the new preacher ought to preach Sunday and give himself a send-off. This was funny to the new preacher, but did the best we could under the circumstances, and then Bro. Adams administered the sacrament, and we had a good, religious time. May the good Lord bless Tyler Circuit this year, is our constant prayer.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, February 2, 1899, p. 5, c. 3

LINDALE CIRCUIT.

J. W. Bridges, Jan. 24: We have been returned to this pleasant charge for the present conference year. When Bishop Galloway read us out for Lindale Circuit at the close of the conference at Beaumont, we felt like saying, "thank you, Bishop." The good people have received us back kindly. We have been pounded, for which we are truly thankful. The stewards met and made a liberal assessment for the pastor. The prospects for a successful year are good. We are praying for a revival at every appointment. The Tyler District Conference meets with the Church at Lindale this year. Come down, Mr. Editor, and you shall have a pleasant time. You are giving us a splendid paper. May God bless you in your work.

TYLER CIRCUIT.

S. N. Allen. Jan. 28: This scribe and family were made glad by an approaching hack loaded with good things from one of our Churches. The brethren call it a pounding. Call it what you please. It consisted of ham, eggs, sausage and fruit (both dried and canned), potatoes and berry jam and other good things. Such evidence of love makes a preacher feel good. God bless the good people of Tyler Circuit. By the help of God we will do our best for this people. We must have a revival at every appointment.

FLYNT.—A. P. Flynt was born in Arkansas, December 7, 1855; moved with his father to Texas in 1875, and settled in Smith County. On June 7, 1883, he was married to Miss Mattie Campbell, with whom he lived a happy life. He was converted in a camp-meeting at Cove Springs, near Jacksonville, in 1884, and soon after was baptized and received into the Church by Dr. Finley. Bro. Flynt was a truly noble man, loved and honored by the people of his community and county. He was successful in his business undertakings. At the time of his death he had a lucrative mercantile business; was also postmaster and railroad ticket agent at Flint. He was an honest, trustworthy citizen, in whom the people placed much confidence. He was an honorable member of the Methodist Church at Flint, loved his Church and was true to its vows. In him the pastor had a warm supporter, the needy a ready helper. Oh! how he will be missed! I was his pastor last year. I noticed he had a certain place in Church to sit. As I preached he listened attentively; occasionally his countenance would glow and tears would trickle down his cheeks. I'm sure he wasn't aware how much he was helping me preach. He was my friend. I loved him. He was attending to his business when I left for conference, but when I returned his mortal remains had been laid to rest. Congestion had stolen him away. His family is left with a nice home and good support financially, but oh! so lonely. A good husband and loving father is gone. Two little children had preceded him to the spirit land. A wife and two children are left behind; an equally divided family—three in heaven and three on earth. That will be a blessed reunion one day, if Sister Flynt and Lizzie and Lola live true to Jesus. Among the sorrowing ones left are a father, brother and sister. His pious mother had gone before. Grief-stricken ones, take consolation in the fact that there will be a resurrection and restitution of all things. “We look for a new heaven and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness." Hold yourselves in readiness for the change.

M. I. BROWN.
A jail delivery occurred last Tuesday night at Tyler, and as a result, two or three noted criminals who were awaiting trial are at liberty. They managed to get hold of some sort of an instrument which they converted into a saw, and then proceeded to saw two or three of the iron bars in two. The country is being searched for them.

REV. J. T. Fontaine was born March 13, 1819, and died at his home, near Starrville, Smith county, Texas, December 26, 1898. He was married to Elizabeth A. Ralls, January 2, 1845. After her death he was married the second time, to Mrs. Annie Walters, October 17, 1878, with whom he lived happily until her death, which occurred a little over one year ago. Dr. Fontaine, as he was usually called, studied medicine in early life, was a very successful doctor, and continued to practice until near the close of life. He was converted when 18 years of age, while living in Kentucky. He joined the M. E. Church, and after moving to Louisiana he was called to preach and joined the Louisiana Conference of the M. E. Church, South, and traveled in that conference for several years. Just before or during the war, he located and after the war began moved his negroes to Smith County, Texas, where he lived the most of the time until his death. Bro. Fontaine came into the experience of "holiness" under the preaching of Rev. R. L. Averill some twelve years ago, and was ever a faithful, fearless witness and advocate of this glorious Bible doctrine until his death. He joined the Texas Conference of the Free Methodist Church in 1888 and raveled in that conference there years, where his labors were highly appreciated. His third year was at San Antonio. He located on account of his great age, but remained a local preacher in that Church until his death. He leaves several children and grandchildren to mourn their loss. A married daughter lives in Smith County, his oldest son in Milam County, who is a practicing physician and a local preacher in the M. E. Church, South, and his youngest son, O. C. Fontaine, is quite a prominent minister in the North Texas Conference of the M. E. Church, South, and present pastor of the Floyd Street Church, Dallas, Texas. The writer was not privileged to be with him during his last sickness, but being closely associated with him in the ministry, and knowing his life for the past ten years so well, we know that his end was peace, and his life and his influence will long be felt in the neighborhoods where he has lived and labored so faithfully for the salvation of lost souls.

GEORGE M'CULLOCH.

S. N. ALLEN.
BUTLER.—Saturday night, at 1:30 o'clock the pure spirit of sister S. L. Butler left the tenement of clay to be forever with the Lord. Sister Butler was born February 12, 1857; was converted when a child and joined the Church. She was the light of the home. She loved her church, and was at her post as often as she could. We miss her. She leaves eight children, an aged mother, one sister and brothers to mourn for her. On the sad, cold, dark evening of February 5, 1899, we laid her remains to rest in the family graveyard to wait the resurrection morn. Weep not, dear loved ones, we will meet her again.

TROUPE.

W. J. Owens, March 15: We are working to have a successful year on the Troupe and Overton work. We believe the outlook is promising. The Ladies' Aid Society has given the parsonage and premises a general overhauling. New garden and yard fences built, two coats of paint put on the house, two front rooms painted and papered, two new rocking chairs, furniture revarnished, etc., amounting in all to about $100 paid out since the first of the year. Truly, these ladies deserve great credit for their indefatigable efforts to make the preacher and his family comfortable. The people who take the Advocate speak very complimentary of the paper and its editor. Many of our people ought to take it who do not.

GILL.—Sister Rhoda R. Gill (nee Ponder) was born in North Alabama, March 20, 1828; moved to Mississippi in the winter of 1847, and was married to Bro. J. J. Gill July, 1854. They came to Smith County, Texas, December, 1886. Sister Gill was converted and joined the Methodist Church in early life, and on coming to Texas brought her Church letter with her and joined the Church at Starrville, in Smith County, Texas, and afterwards transferred to old Center Church, eight miles north of Tyler, where all the Christian graces adorned her modest life until death called her from labor to reward, which was caused by heart failure amid the sufferings of la grippe, February 15, 1899. Truly, Sister Gill was a model Christian. While we were her pastor for three years it was our privilege often to visit Bro. and Sister Gill and Miss Sallie Ponder, her sister, who lived with them, and truly it was a blessing to hear her talk of the triumphs of a living faith in Christ and her hopes of eternal life beyond the grave. So blessed are the dead who die in the Lord.

TYLER CIRCUIT.

S. N. Allen, April 10: Tyler circuit is still in the land of the living. Our second Quarterly Conference is over. We had a very profitable time, we trust. Our beloved elder was on hand, in the Spirit of his master, and made our hearts glad with the blessed Gospel of our Savior. Our finances are behind, but we are still hopeful. We want to have a revival at every appointment. We need much help—I mean from God; hence we ask the prayers of our brethren and the hearty co-operation of our Church. We have some as good people on Tyler Circuit as there are anywhere, but they are a little disheartened, I am afraid. Brethren, look up; the good Lord is ready to help you.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, April 20, 1899, p. 14, c. 1

BEARD.—W. R. Beard was born in Caddo Parish, La., December 21, 1859; was married December 22, 1887, and died January 31, 1899; was converted and joined the M. E. Church, South, about fourteen years ago in Titus County, about July or August. This scribe visited the brother in his last illness and talked with him and prayed with him. We will ever remember the amens and sobs and tears of this brother while we prayed with him. The brother, father and husband is gone, but not forever. Not lost, but gone before. Thank God for the religion of our blessed Lord; it gives us a home where we can all meet to part no more. Bro. Beard leaves a wife and four or five little sweet children and a host of friends to mourn their loss. Look up, dear wife and babies; papa waits for you at the beautiful gate. He beckons you come.

TYLER—CEDAR STREET

C. H. Smith, May 8: Our meeting at Cedar Street Church closed last night, after fifteen days' continuance. The Church was greatly revived and several backsliders reclaimed. Thirty or more professed religion; twenty-six joined the Methodist Church and others will join soon. I think some few will join other churches. We baptized eight children during the meeting and organized an Epworth League yesterday of thirty-five members. We invited penitents to the altar in the old style, and prayed with and for them, and we emphasized genuine, old-fashion religion—the knowledge of being pardoned and the witness of the Spirit. Bros. S. N. Allen, Greathouse, Adams, Booth, Ansley, White and lackey (Cumberland Presbyterian) all assisted in preaching and some of the Church worked nobly.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, May 18, 1899, p. 5, c. 2

TYLER CIRCUIT.

S. N. Allen, May 12: Hurrah for the good women of Starrville. The Quarterly Conference of the Tyler Circuit ask this scribe to appoint a committee of ladies at each Church to raise funds to meet the parsonage debt, so we appointed them, and the committee at Starrville went to work and gave a strawberry supper, from which they realized $51.60. Reserved $10 to repair their church; paid $20 on parsonage debt, and paid on preacher's salary $21.60. May the good Lord bless these good women. We expect a gracious revival at that place. Our good women can do anything when they set their heads. All things are possible to them that believeth. Sister Nina Hall and Sister Lucy McCormick are our committee at that place. Of course the other good women at that place joined in. Those good women don't know how much they encourage their preacher. We feel like saying, "Help these women that are my helpers in the gospel.” We are looking up on all lines, we think. To your knees, my brethren.

WHITEHOUSE CIRCUIT.
B. C. Ansley, May 18: The first Sunday in this month was a red-letter day with us at Chandler. We had Children's Day service. We used the published program with some additions. The young people and children all did well; had an immense congregation, and dinner at the church, enough to feed them all and more. The fact is the Chandler people do nothing of this sort by halves. Collection $3. The weather was rainy, but still we had a splendid time up to the dinner hour, at which time we had to leave for our evening appointment at Noonday. Here we had a good congregation and a good service. We are getting on reasonably well with our work. The people are kind and responsive. Have taken up conference collections just half round the circuit, and have about half the assessments promised on subscriptions. Our people have no money this time of the year. Think from present indications will be able to report all up next winter at Timpson. We need and expect a revival all round the work.

SENATOR HORACE CHILTON.

This distinguished gentleman made the Advocate a pleasant visit since our last issue, and we were pleased to form his acquaintance. This is the first time that we have had the pleasure of meeting him, and we found him to be a most pleasant man socially and otherwise. He has the simple tastes of the self-made man, and there is nothing pretentious about his manner. He is genial and delightful in conversation and well informed upon the topics of the day. That he is a man of mental breadth and large mold, is very easy to see. He is intensely practical in his views of matters, and an eminently safe man in the position he now occupies. Senator Chilton has made a good record in the United States Senate, and he has served his constituents well and efficiently.

CALHOUN.—Little Lena B. Calhoun, the daughter of Rev. J. C. and Bessie Calhoun, was buried at Starrville, Smith County, Texas, June 8, 1899. Little Lena was born in Canton, Van Zandt County, Texas, September 24, 1889, and died in Houston, Texas, June 7, 1899, aged nine years, eight months and thirteen days. Lena joined the M. E. church, South, in Pittsburg, Texas, in January, 1896. Before she was seven years of age she always enjoyed the sacrament of our Lord's Supper and the reading of her little Bible. She never forgot her evening prayers. We thank the good Lord for a religion that adapts itself to our children, and that they can give God their little hearts in childhood. Look up, dear heartbroken father and mother; the little hand of your sweet little Lena is beckoning "Come this way, papa and mamma." Thank God for the Christian's hope.

Tyler Cotton Oil Company has been chartered at Austin at $50,000.
TYLER DISTRICT.

The Tyler District Conference met at Lindale, Texas, June 29, 1899. Rev. John Adams, our presiding elder, presided with much grace and dignity. Most of the preachers were present, and the lay brethren were well represented. The business of the conference was dispatched rapidly, but not hastily. All the interests of the Church received attention. The session was harmonious and pleasant. The spirit of brotherly love prevailed.

Bros. Taylor, Mills and Brewer were recommended to the Annual Conference for admission into the traveling connection. Bros. Reynolds and Mills were licensed to preach. The preaching during the session was clear and strong.

Several visitors were present. Rev. V. A. Godbey represented the educational interest; Rev. T. P. Smith presented the claims of the missionary cause. Bro. Williams, representing the Alexander Collegiate Institute, made a very favorable report of its work. Revs. C. F. Smith, of Jacksonville; Mills, of Beckville, and Hall, of Kilgore, were with us. These servants of the Lord delighted us with their presence and preaching.

Bros. Hornbeck, Duke, Davidson and White were elected delegates to the Annual Conference.

The good people of Lindale gave us a very cordial reception, and entertained us royally. They are a kind folk; we shall not forget them.

W. A. MANLY.

HORTON.—Little Roy Horton, infant son of J. C. and S. W. Horton, was born December 21, 1898, and was called home May 19, 1899. He was the pet of the home and was a bright, promising, sweet child; but he is gone from us now. His little voice is hushed in death; his little toys lie about the room untouched. Oh, how sad we are! But stop, papa and mamma, listen! By faith, don't you hear little Roy's sweet voice with that heavenly choir? He is singing still; he is happy. What shall we do? We will go and meet him. Brother and sister, he loves you, too. Will you go? Yes, thank God, we can all meet him in heaven. Look up, then, and thank the good Lord for a home where we can all meet again.

TYLER CIRCUIT.

S. N. Allen, July 31: Three meetings held on this work with good results. At Antioch the Church was greatly revived; had old-time shouting. Only two conversions; one accession to the Church. At Pleasant Grove the Church was greatly revived, also. Eleven conversions, eight accessions. The Lord was with us in great power. At Red Springs the Church was not revived so much, but we had sixteen conversions, fourteen accessions. In the main the work is moving up, and the good Lord is greatly blessing us. One of our faithful local preachers was with us at Antioch, and did us good work—Rev. A. J. Zorn. C. H. Smith, of St. Paul and Cedar Street charge, was with us at Pleasant Grove, and did some of his good old-time work with great acceptability. Uncle Caleb (C. H. Smith), as we all call him, was also with us at Red Springs, and did some more of his good preaching. Bro. Stallings, another one of our local preachers, was with us in the beginning of our Red Springs meeting, and preached us two sermons to the delight of all. God bless our faithful local preachers. Bro. Nolen came up and did some good work also. We have four more meetings to hold. We are doing the best we can. Pray for us.

SNEED.—John Rogers Sneed was born in Richland District, S. C., December 22, 1842, and died at his home near Starrville, Smith County, Texas, July 13, 1899. He moved from Graniteville, S. C., to Texas in 1875. In his eighteenth year he enlisted with the 16th South Carolina Regiment, and remained in active service until the battle of Atlanta, July 22, where he lost a leg and was compelled to cease fighting. Early in 1862 he enlisted in the army of Christ, and faithfully performed his duty as a soldier of the Cross till the Great Captain said: "It is enough; come up higher!" For thirty-two years he followed the profession of teaching public school. How often have we heard him ask the Heavenly Father for divine guidance in leading his own and other precious children entrusted to his care aright. In his death we have lost a devoted husband, a kind and loving father, a safe counsellor and guide. We shall indeed miss him; yet, we thank God, that while our hearts are bowed down in sorrow, we know where to find him. He taught us how to live; he showed us how to die. We'll meet again.

TROUPE.

W. J. Owens, Aug. 30: We have held protracted meetings at all our appointments, except London. We have been assisted at different times and places by Revs. A. S. Whitehurst, B. C. Ansley, W. A. Manly, S. N. Allen, Albert Little, and W. N. Brown. These brethren did efficient work. Their preaching was of a high order and in the spirit of true Christianity. We had about thirty conversions and twenty-two accessions to the Church—fifteen by ritual. Our third Quarterly Conference was held at London the 19th of this month. Our presiding elder, Dr. Adams, seemed at his best. His sermon on "Spiritual Light" was profound, logical and convincing, lifting his hearers into a higher degree of spiritual light and warmth. All must have been made better by having heard it. Bro. Adams preached two sermons for us at Fountain Head, at the beginning of our revival, which were fine sermons and listened to with rapt attention. Our finances are ahead of what they were at this time last year, so said our presiding elder. We have all our Conference collections in cash and good subscriptions, and, notwithstanding the drouth, we think we will bring everything up in full. We intend to do our best on the Twentieth Century Fund.

ROBBINS.—Wilmer W. Robbins was born in Smith County, Texas, Nov. 21, 1880; departed this life Sept. 5, 1899. He was converted and joined the Church at 12 years of age. But, like a great many others neglected duty and soon found himself away from God. About a month before his death he was reclaimed and started out to live a new life. The change in his life was so clear that all who came in close touch with him could tell that he had been with Christ.
and learned of him. May the young take warning and learn that in the midst of life we are exposed to death, and use every effort to prepare for that hour that must come to all. May the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, keep the hearts and minds of loved ones left behind.

TALLEY.—Mrs. Jane Talley was born in North Carolina Aug. 13, 1821; departed this life Sept. 8, 1899, aged 78 years and 25 days. Sister Talley was converted when about 17 years of age and united with the M. E. church. She was a member of the Church for about sixty-one years. She was the second of twelve children and the last to depart this life. For the last two years of her life she was much afflicted, being partially paralyzed and blind, but she bore her sufferings patiently. She said she was willing and ready to die and only asked to die an easy death, which she did. Her husband, John F. Talley, preceded her to the spirit world just one month. She leaves four children, two sons and two daughters, to mourn their loss, but to her it was doubtless all gain. "To die is gain." She lived well and died well.

MOCK.—Mrs. Sophie Elizabeth Mock, after a lingering illness and patient suffering, "fell on sleep," and went to her eternal home September 3, 1899. She was born May 31, 1867, being thirty-two years, three months and three days old. She was converted during a protracted meeting conducted by Rev. Albert Little, in Troupe, Texas, about sixteen years ago, and united with the M. E. Church, South, in 1889. She was married to Mr. J. J. Mock, who is a prominent member of the Church, October 9, 18187, and leaves three sweet little girls—Mary, Edna and Lela, aged eleven, nine and seven respectively. Sister Mock was a loving wife and mother, a holy woman of God—a well-rounded Christian character, whose life was full of good works. Possessed of an even, smooth temper, she spake evil of none, but always had a kind word for all and was loved by all who knew her. Concerning her death the Troupe Banner said, in part: "It is with the deepest regret the Banner chronicles the news of the death of Mrs. J. J. Mock, which sad event occurred last Sunday night at 11:45 o'clock, after a lingering illness of twenty-four days with slow fever. There has never been a death in Troupe that was more regretted. All that skilled physicians, husband, loving friends and relatives could do for her was done, but to no avail." Sister Mock loved her Church and was a faithful member, of whom it can be said in scriptural language: "She hath done what she could." A member of the Ladies’ Aid Society and a teacher in the Sunday-school—teaching a class of little girls and boys. Among her last words were: "Dress the children and send them to Sunday-school." Comparatively young when death came, yet she had lived long enough to make the world better around her, and she leaves a sweet religious sphere behind, which will speak long after these words have been read. She was carried to the Church where her membership had always been since she united with the visible Church, where a large congregation met, and the writer preached a funeral discourse from 2 Cor 5:1. Farewell, dear sister, until we meet you "over there," where there is no sickness, pain, sorrow nor death, where the Lord shall wipe all tears from our eyes and there shall be no separations. Be patient, husband, children, relatives and friends love and serve the Lord she loved and served and meet her in heaven in the "sweet by and by."

SPEAR.—Robert H., son of R. W. and Nannie Spear, was born May 8, 1896, and departed this life September 16, 1899, aged three years, four months and eight days. Little Robert was a bright child, the joy and pride of his parents, who did all in their power to save their boy, but to no purpose—the Lord took him to heaven. Father and mother can now think of little Robert as an angel of God, who will await them in heaven with "beautiful beckoning hands," signaling them to follow on and join him in the "sweet by-and-by." Bro. and Sister Spear gave Robert up with sad hearts and many regrets, but they were resigned to the Lord's will, and doubtless feel that while they cannot bring him back, they can go to him. Robert will suffer no more; he is beyond trouble, pain and sickness. Blessed hope—"to die is gain."

TYLER CIRCUIT.

S. N. Allen, Oct. 9: I have done the hardest year's work of my life. The Tyler Circuit is one of the has-been good works. Away back yonder it was the banner circuit of Tyler District, but like a great many others it started down hill, and was hard to check. This is my first year on this work. I have done the best I could under the circumstances. The good Lord has been with me. We have had about one hundred conversions. Have received sixty-nine into the Church. As to the finances, they are greatly behind. We are stirring the natives on the collections. We can't say that we will get everything in full, but if we don't we are determined that it shall not be our fault. My brethren, to pay out is all that will save the work. We have some as good people on Tyler Circuit as ever lived. I have great hopes for the work. If the Bishop says for us to come back we will do the best we can. God bless Tyler Circuit.
TROUPE.

W. J. Owens, Oct. 5: Rev. V. A. Godbey, Conference Secretary of Education of East Texas Conference, preached two sermons for us on education—one at Troupe and the other at Overton. These sermons were listened to with a degree of eagerness that showed plainly that the preacher had enlisted and interested his congregations on the subject of education and molded in the minds of many a lasting sentiment in favor of Christian education. Bro. Godbey is greatly enthused in the educational move; his heart and soul seem imbued with the subject. He has preached all over his district, at most of our District Conferences, and for several of our ministers on the theme of education and the Twentieth Century thank-offering movement of our Church. He is an indefatigable worker and his labors should meet the hearty support and co-operation of every minister and layman of the East Texas Conference. If we succeed in educating our people on Christian education, and thereby mold a lasting sentiment in their minds in favor of our schools, we will have accomplished a great work.

LAIRD.—Lawrence O. Laird was born in Smith County, Texas, April 12, 1873. He was converted when a child and joined the Methodist church. Through the influence of evil associates he was led astray and lost connection with the Church for awhile, but was reclaimed last year, and on the 3rd day of August reunited with the Church and lived a consistent Christian until the day of his death, which occurred at his home in Smith County, Texas, August 13, 1899. He was a victim of that relentless disease, consumption. Just twelve days before his death I asked him how it was with his soul. His reply was "Oh, I feel all right. I feel sometimes like I was already in my new home. I am ready to go." Then he said: "I pray all the time." God has taken him now to the "new home," where prayer is turned to praise, and where disease and suffering are unknown. He leaves a mother, one sister and two brothers, besides a host of relatives and friends to mourn his departure.

WHITEHOUSE CIRCUIT.

B. C. Ansley, Oct. 11: We have held eight meetings on the work, beginning with the Church at Bullard the 15th of June. We had a good meeting here, resulting in some fifteen or twenty conversions and reclaims. We had help from Dr. Withers, of Arkansas; Bros. Kidd and Allen, of our own conference; also Bro. T. T. Booth, a former pastor here. The meeting lasted ten days. Next we went to Chandler first Sunday in July. There we held a few days; had the help of Bros. White and Kidd, who did some good preaching for us. Some good done. We went to Flynt third Sunday in July. There the meeting was almost a failure, the community being divided over other matters. Here we had the help of Bro. Lowe, one of our local brethren. He did us good work. Then to Liberty Hill with L. A. Burk and M. I. Brown to help us. Here we had immense congregations and a fine meeting. These brethren did us some fine preaching. Then we went to Whitehouse on the fifth Sunday in July and had the help of Bro. Owens, of Troupe and Overton; had a very good meeting. Bro. Owens did us good. Then we held forth at Noonday third Sunday in August with Bros. C. H. Smith and Walter Mills. There we had a good meeting. Uncle Caleb was at his best, and Bro. Mills (being just licensed at our District Conference in July) was a surprise to us all—preaching like a veteran. From here we went to Lane's Chapel. Bros. Kidd, C. H. Smith and Dr. Hall, local elder from Henderson County, rendered us good service; had a good meeting in the church. Next we held at Walnut Grove. This was the occasion of our third Quarterly Conference. Bro. Adams, our presiding elder, was on hand; preached us all happy and left. So we continued the meeting with the help of Bros. Lowe and Griffin, local brethren. We had a good time in the Church, but not much outside influence as we could see. This closed our meetings on Whitehouse Circuit. We have received thirty-three into the Church this year, baptized five infants, have had some forty or more conversions and possibly as many reclamations, and now we are doing our best to get ready for conference. Have the promise of all our conference collections, and hope to come out on that line. We are not half out on salary yet, but of course hope to come out in full. The parsonage is here at Bullard. The church here has about paid out. The people are very kind to us. May the Lord abundantly bless them and theirs.

Dear Bro. Mulkey—Just four months ago to-day the death angel came and broke up our happy little home circle, and snatched from our embrace our little daughter, Lena, the joy of our hearts and the sunshine of our home. All our plans and hopes for happiness in this life were centered in her. She, too, had her life-work mapped out, and often expressed a desire to be useful in the world, and to be like her Savior. "Going about doing good." After Lena was gone, in looking through her books, we found a little note addressed to "Dear Papa," asking him to have one little room built for her, "to be her own property." This morning as we sat in our lonely home, wrestling with our growing grief, and wondering how we could possibly drag through the long, dreary days of the coming years, without our precious darling, our little boy Galloway came in and handed us the new Advocate, in which we read your appeal in behalf of the Orphanage. The thought came to us, this is our opportunity, if not to build at least to furnish a "room" for her in the new Orphanage, and to have her precious name engraved upon its consecrated walls. Though her spirit dwells now in that mansion prepared for her by her Savior, and her body sweetly rests in the cemetery, awaiting the resurrection morning, yet her memory will ever be a living, moving, influence in the lives of her parents and brother, and whatever good we may be able to do in the world will be accomplished through the inspiration of her precious life. Enclosed we send money order for $28.65, to furnish one apartment in the new Orphanage, to be occupied by little girls about ten years of age, with golden hair and blue eyes—perfect blondes, if possible, like our little darling. If the little girls would like to have Lena's picture, we will have one made in pastelle and send to hang over her name, Lena B. Calhoun. We think her sweet face would cheer and brighten the room, and even the lives of the little orphans. We do this for Jesus' sake and in his name, to bless the little orphans and to perpetuate the name of our beautiful darling. We want to pay this one last true tribute from our broken hearts to our own sweet, lovable child, gone from our longing arms and yearning hearts. May the Lord abundantly bless your labors, is our prayer. Yours in Christian love

REV. AND MRS. J. C. CALHOUN.

P. S. I have the designs of several pretty quilts, which I intended to make for Lena if she had lived. If you will write me the size of bed, whether single or double, I will make two quilts for Lena's room.

The daughter of M. Bannon, a Cotton Belt engineer, at Tyler, shot and killed herself last Monday. She was to have been married the Wednesday following. It is supposed that a pistol which was lying upon the bed was accidentally dropped to the floor and discharged with the above result. She was a popular young lady, and her death is greatly deplored.

HADEN.—Richard Finley Haden, son of John F. and Ophelia Haden, was born June 26, 1875, and peacefully passed away October 8, 1899, at the home of his parents in Tyler, Texas. He was baptized by his grandfather, Rev. R. S. Finley, D. D., when an infant, and joined the Methodist Church when eleven years of age. At the age of fourteen he began an apprenticeship in the mechanist trade. He served his apprenticeship faithfully, and became a skillful machinist, holding important and remunerative positions in different railroad shops. He led an active, busy, useful life from boyhood, and a bright future seems to have been cut off by his departure. He had a fine physical organization and development, well poised and bright mental faculties, and was gentle, cheerful, true and affectionate in spirit. He lived a clean, consistent, religious life, and when his noble spirit passed away, no shadow of doubt as to the future embittered the grief of his dear ones. He was a noble, manly fellow, and left nothing in his life for his relatives and friends to look back upon with regret. His remains rest in the Tyler Cemetery, by the side of those of his sainted grandfather and grandmother Finley. Peace to his ashes. He was my nephew, and I loved him and honored him, and bet to pay this little tribute to his character.

GIBSON.—Little Mary E. Gibson, infant daughter of Bro. D. A. and Sister N. E. Gibson, was born November 8, 1898, and departed this life October 28, 1899. The little sufferer lay sick four weeks, when the good Lord came for her and took her to himself. When our little ones die oh how consoling are the words of our good Lord: "Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven." Dear Bro. and Sister Gibson, look up. The little beckoning hands are calling you homeward. Oh, that sweet, bright day, when mamma and papa and sweet little Mary meet on the sunlit hills to part no more! We will not weep as those that have no hope. We will love for God.

HIX.—Waldo Hix, son of J. P. Hix and wife, Dora Hix, departed this life November 18, 1899, in Tyler, Smith County, Texas, aged three years, two months and thirteen days. Waldo, like most baby boys, was the idol of this home, and when baby is gone, nearly all is gone. But Jesus said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven." Then, dear Bro. and Sister Hix, Waldo can not come back to you, but you can go to him. And you have one more strong cord to bind you to heaven. May God, who is so good, give you his grace and strength for your day and trial.

Rev. John Adams, of the Tyler District, stated that his preachers had had about 1000 conversions, 492 accessions, and thirteen of his charges were paid up in full. The Church at Tyler has paid $4000 on its old debt, and there remains but $3000 of the debt. This is so arranged that it can be handled with ease. Everything in this district seems to be flourishing.

H. B. Urquhart, Jan. 2: The writer has experienced days in the course of an eventful life when, though in the midst of human multitudes, he felt he could not reach forth his hand and laying hold on one, say this is my friend. Life then was like a desert waste. But the clouded day makes more radiant the unclouded. And so pours forth a flood of sacred light and illumines with cheer on this new year occasion the hearts of this local preacher and his family. Footfalls and subdued tones borne from out the darkness admonish us of the approach of a throng upon some mission bent. A rap; the key turns, and in the open panel in bold relief against the dark background, as a picture set in frame, a soft light unveils a face glowing with the beams of friendship; while to the rear, here and there, are other faces mirroring forth from bright eyes and countenances the love that sets them shining. In they come. Around the room they range. Methodists, Baptists, Presbyterians, under the leadership of the new pastor pressed into a willing service. He speaks: "Like myself, you occupy only a humble position in the Church; that that deserves praise is not the position one occupies, but his fidelity to duty. These your friends, prompted by their appreciation for your faithfulness, have desired to express their regard by this impromptu call; and whatever else may be left in their wa..." The inventory reveals the deposit of many things, chiefest of which is the consciousness of their love and friendship. We are not worthy of this visitation; much less this departure from precedent in thus remembering a local preacher. It calls forth his deepest gratitude. May the God of all peace and love be with Bro. J. W. Johnson, our new pastor, and those good people who companied with him, both now and forever. Amen.

S. N. Allen, Jan. 18: Here we have in the land of the living. The Bishop said for us to come back to this work, so we are here to make this the best year of our lives, by the help of the good Lord. We paid our last year, and we will do better this year. We don't want the brethren to think of us as not doing our duty. So, brethren, when you think of Tyler Circuit, we want you to think of it as one of the best works in Tyler District. We are determined to come up with our work, says the good people of Tyler Circuit. We have some as good people as ever lived. This is our second year, and if the Bishop says for us to stay here our four years, all right. We are willing. We had an eight days' debate with our Campbellite friends at Starrville. A. A. Kidd did the work for us. He is a dandy. He ran Elder L. M. Owen out of the Bible and then got up on it, as it were, and flopped his wings and crowed for Methodism. God bless our dear old Advocate. It gets better all the time.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, February 1, 1900, p. 5, c. 3
TYLER CIRCUIT.

S. N. Allen, Jan. 29: We received a note to be at the little village of Starrville the 25th inst., so we went. And when we got there we stopped at Mr. Livy Butler's, as requested. Presently we heard the church bell ring, and a good sister said we were wanted at the church. Of course we went, and when we got there we found a number of Starrville's best people at the church. They had a good fire in the stove. We sat down to await further orders. The people kept coming in. After while they began to bring bundles forward from the back of the church, and said they were pounding us. We have never seen so many good things at church before. Flour and coffee, and fruit, and ham, and dry goods, and popcorn, and candy—oh, so many good things we won't try to name them all. And we got up and tried to talk, but our feelings overcame us, and we tried to pray. Our hearts are full till yet. Such tokens of kindness made a better pastor. We love the people of Tyler Circuit. Our first Quarterly Conference for Tyler Circuit is a thing of the past. We met the 27th. Though a bad day, we had a good crowd and a real good time. Our new presiding elder, Rev. J. T. Smith, was on hand and preached two good sermons. He is what we Texas boys used to call a "rattler"—that is, he preached to the delight of all. God bless our new elder; we are learning to love him already. They assessed for the preacher in charge $550, $45 above what it was last year. We are determined to have a good year, by the help of God. Pray for us.

LINDALE.

W. W. Graham, Feb. 6: As was expected, this preacher reached his new field of labor on schedule time, and up to date has made nearly two full rounds, and has been taking in the situation generally. We found a comfortable parsonage, well furnished, a first-class wash-pot and fifteen orthodox chickens thrown in for good measure. Many thanks to our predecessors. They certainly did well, but have fortunately left plenty for me to do. Our reception was all that could be desired, tokens of kindness and appreciation coming in very frequently. Congregations are the best we have had in years, and the prospect for a successful year's work is really promising. The Sunday-school work is in splendid shape, but by odds the most vigorous organization we have is the W. P. and H. M. Society. The Advocate is in high favor and will be more so if the high-water mark has not already been reached. We are not big like Fort Worth, but will certainly be glad to see you.

LINDALE.

W. W. Graham, Feb. 26: Our first Quarterly Conference closed last night at 10 o'clock with very happy results. Our surroundings were not the best, because of sickness and death—two funerals on Saturday and one on Sunday, with a reported case of scarlet fever. The visit of Bro. J. T. Smith, our new presiding elder, was anticipated with much pleasure, and nobody was disappointed. The work of the Quarterly Conference was satisfactory in every respect, and Sunday was a high day indeed. The communion was satisfactory in every respect, and Sunday was a high day indeed. The communion service at the close of the 11 o'clock sermon was all that could have been desired, and the collection for our connectional interest that followed was splendid indeed, resulting in $107.20 cash and good subscription. At 7:30 p.m. we had our Educational Rally, with Bro. B. H. Greathouse, of Tyler, as chief speaker. It was certainly a masterly effort in the interest of one of the noblest causes that can possibly occupy our time and attention. At the close of the address Bro. Smith, in his own inimitable style, [rest of article missing].

KNIGHT.—Miss May M. Knight was born February 17, 1832, and died at her home near Mt. Sylvan, Texas, February 12, 1900, being sixty-seven years, eleven months and twenty-five days old. Of all these years we are delighted to be able to state that she spent at least fifty-five of them as a faithful worker as a member of the M. E. Church, South. She certainly had that "good name that is rather to be chosen than great riches," and we are assured that her record on high is all that could be desired. No doubt the Master greeted her, saying: "May, you have done what you could for me and my cause." She has left a great many friends and relatives that shall miss her on earth, but they all know where to find her in the sweet by and by. May they all follow her as she followed Christ, is the prayer of her pastor.

TYLER DISTRICT.

Well, here we are on Tyler District; have been here two months, and it's time to write to the Advocate. We moved into the district parsonage at 627 West Ferguson Street, December 27, and felt at home from the first hour. No presiding elder in the East Texas Conference received a warmer or more generous welcome from both preachers and laity than this scribe, and no man is more determined to do his dead level best for those he is to serve. If we fail it will be only for want of sense and strength. The district stewards met and in the spirit of perfect fairness apportioned the assessments ordered by the Annual Conference, and then with perfect agreement made a liberal assessment for the presiding elder. We succeed Rev. John Adams, D. D. No purer or wiser man ever traveled the district. He is held in very high esteem all over the district. .

Tyler Circuit was next on the round, to be held January 27 and 28 at Pleasant Grove. Here Bro. S. N. Allen is beginning his second year. He's a lightning striker, Allen is. The word failure never had a place in his vocabulary. Tyler Circuit moved away up under his management last year. It will go higher this year. He called for us Saturday morning with his blue team, which no one but he can handle or drive, and we struck a blue streak through a blue norther for the Quarterly Conference. It was a cold day, but the people came and filled the house. We had a good meeting, a good dinner, then a good—real good—Quarterly Conference. A finer body of official members than these will be hard to find on any circuit. They love their preacher. They bragged on him so much they made us fear lest we should not be able to come half way up to him. They raised the salary $45 over last year and made a good payment, and will (D.V.) pay every cent in the end. The weather cut up all sorts of capers Sunday. It rained, it blew, it snowed, but the people didn't mind it and came right on, and we had a good meeting. Tyler, Cedar Street and St. Paul came February 3 and 4. Uncle Caleb Smith is the pastor for the second year. He and I were admitted into the conference at the same time. He is away along in years now. His voice quavers when he sings, but he is active, full of energy and as zealous as in his palmy days. He is one of the best, practical and most successful preachers in the conference. The meeting was good and the Church officers hopeful of a good year. . . . February 17 and 18 we were at home—Tyler—with Marvin Church. This is a Church with a history. For years it has numbered in its membership many of the most cultured and wealthy people of Tyler—leading physicians, noted lawyers, business men of all classes. A few years ago, while this church was in the height of wealth and prosperity, they built one of the finest houses of worship to be found in the State, and just as it was completed a succession of disasters came, and for several years it looked like we would lose it. But, under the wise management of Bro. Greathouse, the present pastor, whose term closes this year, order has been brought out of chaos, and the large debt is nearly all paid and the $3000 yet remaining is provided for. This is a fine charge, and Bro. G. has things well in hand. He is popular, and deserves to be. Many of our people are devoted and religious, and the present outlook for Marvin Church is better than for years. Let no one say, "Bro. Smith must think he has the only district and all the preachers there are in the conference." Oh, no; we left just such a set when we left San Augustine District, and we often think of them in our prayers and say, "God bless them." Fact is, East Texas is full of them. But Tyler District is our field now, and if we should stick close to it, see all its good, labor for and love it more than any place on earth, we only do our duty. We are planning and praying for a great revival. If we can have it, raise all our assessments and the dollar per member for the Twentieth Century Fund, and push and double the Advocate's subscription (which, by the way, was never better or more popular than now), we will be ready to go to conference or to heaven, whichever our Father wills.

We will finish this letter when we finish our round of Quarterly Conferences.

POUNDING THE PREACHER

W. W. Graham, Lindale, March 16: On last Friday night the good people of Lindale utilized the moonlight by giving us a genuine pounding after the most approved pattern. As it happened the preacher was not at home, but was filling his first appointment at Swan. As the farmers say, taking in some new ground, as this place had been left off the plan. Suffice it to say the people in a large number came full handed, stayed till 10 p.m., at which time Bro. A. C. Huggins read a thanksgiving chapter and all joined in prayer and praise to Him from whom all blessings flow; and they left supplies for our comfort and happiness to last for weeks to come. As for the honors of the occasion the brethren report that the preacher's wife and little girl were quite equal to the emergency. In fact, Dora Belle says she would like to marry a preacher, provided the poundings would come often enough. We were happy before—even more so now.
URBAN.—Dixie Leola, little daughter of W. B. and Mrs. Dixie Urban, was born July 27, 1898, and died April 5, 1900. Little Dixie was here only a short time, but she had her share of suffering. We nursed her through fifty-two days of suffering last spring, thinking for two weeks each day would be her last. She was spared through spring, but was left a cripple. Then she suffered three weeks this spring. When the doctor announced he could do no more, we knew Dixie was dead. She had just learned to talk, and was so much company in the home. She will be missed by us all so much. Everybody loved her. That voice is hushed there. Courage, parents, brothers and sisters; Dixie will be watching and waiting for you. May you be as ready as was she when the summons came.

TYLER CIRCUIT.

S. N. Allen, April 27: Our second Quarterly Conference has come and gone. It was held on Thursday, the 26th. Notwithstanding the busy time, we had a real good time. Our presiding elder, J. T. Smith, fed us with a real good sermon, and we rejoiced together in the Lord. Tom is a first-class elder. My folks are delighted with him. Then, when the elder had fed our souls, the good women of Center spread a good dinner—don't you forget it! Oh, how we did enjoy the occasion together, and all resolved to be a better people. The finances were a little short, but we think we will come out all right in the end of the year. We have a good people as ever lived. Oh, how bad we want to save their children. We are determined to have a revival all around the work, by the help of the Lord.

LINDALE.

W. W. Graham, May 2: Last Sunday, April 29, was a high day with us all at Sabine Church. By honest, persistent, hard work, and the timely assistance of the Board of Church expansion these good people had built a splendid house for the Master and Methodism, and on that day Bro. J. W. Bridges, former pastor, to the delight of all, preached the dedicatory sermon at 11 a.m. and at 3 p.m. preached a very profitable sermon to the children and assisted in organizing the Sunday-school, this being the fifth Sunday-school on the Lindale Circuit. During the stormy days of reconstruction Jule Bridges, the father of James W., and I were class-mates in the Montgomery conference over in Alabama. Having been soldiers together, surrendering with Gen. Lee, we came home to make the best of the situation we could. With Dr. A. T. Bledsoe we could sing,

"Oh who can estimate the cost
When unity was saved and liberty lost."

But saddest of all we found our Northern cousins there wearing store clothes and with plenty of money to be used in the business of absorption and disintegration of the Southern Church. Bridges was one of the men that did not sell out, but looking the man in the face said: "If you have come down from Ohio to help us preach the gospel and save sinners we bid you a hearty welcome; but if you have come on a proselyting scheme to take advantage of our supposed distress, you can go back as you came, for your $75,000 can't buy Jule Bridges." I am delighted to be associated with this young brother so full of promise, for he is a worthy son of a noble sire.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, May 10, 1900, p. 14, c. 1

J. L. NEEL.

A good man has gone to his reward. Bro. J. L. Neel was born in Franklin County, Tenn., December 1, 1827, and died at his home in Dallas, Texas, March 7, 1900, respected by all who knew him and dearly loved by a large circle of friends. In early life he enlisted in the army and was a soldier in the Mexican War. Before he returned home, his family moved to Texas and settled in Smith County, where he joined them again. In 1854 he was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at Starrville, Smith County, Texas, in which communion he lived a happy and useful member, until the master called him from labor to refreshment. On February 8, 1855, he was happily married to Miss Eudora Curl, who survives him and treasures the memory of as kind a husband as any woman was ever blessed with. Three children came to brighten their home and cement the bonds of affection which bound them together. Two of these children, Mrs. J. G. Kearby, of Wills Point, and W. H. Neel, of Dallas, are living, an honor to their sainted father. A little daughter died in 1865, born in 1861, at four years of age. Bro. Neel led an active Christian life from the beginning, filling acceptably the offices of steward and superintendent of Sunday-schools for several years. It was my privilege to sustain the relation of pastor to him and family, first at Dallas and later at Cleburne, and it was always an inspiration to me in preaching to hear the hearty "amens" and see the glistening tears of joy that stole down his cheek as he drank in the glorious gospel. As he grew older he grew more tender and mellow, having a kind word for every one. He kept young by keeping in touch with young life in the Epworth League, the Sunday-school and the cottage prayer-meetings. His home was in Tyler during the war, but he moved to Dallas in 1874, and with the exception of three years, Dallas was his home. His death was sudden, resulting from heart failure, giving no time for farewell words or preparation; but he needed none. He was ready, and when the Master called he answered joyfully the summons. Farewell, dear brother; we shall meet again, and say good morning upon the sunlit hills of immortality.

TYLER DISTRICT.

I promised to finish the report from Tyler District when the first round was completed. Lindale came February 24 and 25, at Lindale. W. W. Graham is the new pastor, and no man in the district seems to be prouder of his charge, and he has, beyond any question, a fine people, who seem as proud of him as he of them. Already he has his collections secure, and his per capita free-will offering to the Twentieth Century Fund. Lindale charge is in safe hands for the year 1900. Reports were splendid. . . .

Troupe and Overton Quarterly Conference came March 24 and 25. Bro. J. W. Johnson, pastor. He is a wise man and good preacher. He has been a "beloved" himself, and knows how to have everything ready for a quarterly meeting. He is serving a good charge, and is sure of a good year. Stewards' report full and over. . . .
April 28 and 29 we closed our first round at Flint, on White House Circuit. B. C. Ansley, the "funny preacher" of the district, has charge. If he is the funny preacher, he is religious with it, full of energy, and has an eye on all the interests of the Church. At this meeting he never rested till every member of the Quarterly Conference and visitor had been looked after. We had a real good time. Large crowds attended. This circuit ought to be one of the best in the district, and I believe will be better in the near future than it now is.

I wish to call attention to one other matter ere this report is closed, namely: Our Woman's Home Mission Work. Mrs. Dr. Sanders, of Edom, is our District Secretary. She is very anxious to put the work in better shape in the district, and it needs to be. Every aid society should at once be changed into a W. H. M. Society, and other new societies should be organized. I trust that our preachers will lend Sister Sanders every needed help by correspondence and otherwise. We ought to have five times as many societies as we now have.

Now, one closing word of exhortation: Let all concerned, presiding elder and pastors, local preachers and exhorters, Sunday-school superintendents and teachers, do our level best to make the second quarter more spiritual than the first, the stewards and all the people to make its finances better. Let us continue our faith and prayers for a great revival and full financial reports.

FROM AN OLD-TIME METHODIST.

I take the Advocate annually, and read every word that it contains each week, and I thank God that there are a few of the old-time, old-fashioned Methodists of fifty years ago left to advocate the old Wesleyan doctrine, who are brave enough to call the attention of modern Methodism to the old-time landmarks of fifty years ago. Methodists in those days were known by their godly walk and conversation; also by their dress. A sister wasn't allowed a dozen frills, and lace and ribbon galore put on their dress, but their dress was plain and modest, as becomes a Christian. To wear, likewise, their bonnets was not allowed a hamper basket full of ribbons, laces, artificials, etc., to be piled upon it. Then people were religious as they should and ought to be. How is it now? You may attend church, and you can't tell who is a Christian nowadays. The Church used to have old-time love-feasts behind closed doors. Now that is all done away with, and our domestic religion, and in fact all other sorts of religion, is at a very low ebb. We used to see the preacher and his flock sing together from old-fashioned hymn books—no organ or instruments of any sort, and choirs, to do our singing for us in those days (fifty years ago). Oh, for a closer walk with God, and a return to old-time Methodist rules and religion. What is the cause of so much worldliness in the Church today. Our old-time pioneer preachers, who wore their homespun clothes and walked hundreds of miles to preach, with their saddle-bags thrown over their shoulders, with a change of clothes in one end and Bible and hymn book in the other, often swimming swollen streams to get to their appointments, were equal to the occasion, to keep the Church pure all manner of worldliness out of the Church, and now our Churches are so corrupt, so filled with all manner of worldliness til the Church really is not a Church, but a
The songs they use these days for Church worship are not fit for anything except Leagues or social gatherings. We ought to return to old-time Methodist rules and ways, and do our own singing, from our old-time hymn books, as we used to do, and not allow the organ, or some other sort of instrument, with a choir of the vilest sinners of the country, do it for us. This is why our Church is in its present condition and our religion is at so low an ebb. God will never bless us as we wish till we (the Church) undergo a great change and simply get back to the old-time landmarks. I don't believe God will ever bless the Methodist Church as he used to do till we make our way back. Our preachers, I am inclined to believe, are in a great measure the cause of the present worldliness of our Church. Let our present preachers say to the members: you can not wear such gay apparel and remain in the Church, as did our old-time preachers fifty years ago, and you would see fine rigging flying in every direction. God grant the day soon.

TYLER CIRCUIT.

S. N. Allen, Aug. 31: We have held six of our meetings. Have one more to hold. We have had a good time. The good Lord has been very good to us on the Tyler Circuit. We have had sixty-three conversions and reclamations up to date. Forty-five have joined our Church. The finances behind, but we believe we can safely say that the assessments made by the conference will all come up. We are hopeful on all lines. We serve a good people. Three of our quarterly meetings have passed. Our P. E. is all O. K. God bless him: he makes a fellow love him. Tyler Circuit is coming to the front, even if somebody has to get out of the way to make room for us. We won't stay behind. Lookout! some preacher will want my place the first thing I know. We hope to have good results at our next meeting.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, September 13, 1900, p. 5, c. 2

LINDALE.

W. W. Graham, Sept. 11: Our meetings on the Lindale Circuit have been held with very happy results. At Sabine we held one week and added 8 members. At Mt. Sylvan one week and added 3 members. At Harris Chapel ten days and added 5 members. At Lindale two weeks and added 44 members, making even 60 members from all sources added to the Church during the meetings, and others, no doubt, will join other Churches the first opportunity. The mourners' bench was much in evidence, and how the medicine did work just as soon as we could get the people to take it. It gives me great pleasure to make this statement, for some of our leaders are saying that other denominations have fought us on this question and whipped the fight. No so. For a woman to marry a man with the word obey left out is bad indeed, but for a sinner to hope for salvation full and free without repentance towards God is the worst of all delusions and a destructive snare. Mine helpers from first to last were: J. T. Smith, W. H. Crawford, W. J. Owens, and Wesley Mayne, local deacon. We confidently expect to make a full report financially at the Annual Conference.

BREEZY NOTES FROM REV. J. T. SMITH.

We are in receipt of an interesting letter from Rev. J. T. Smith, of the Tyler District, and while it is mostly private, yet we give below some of its interesting items:
I am rejoiced to say that for a month the revival fires have been burning, to the joy of all our hearts (I mean in Tyler District). I left Lindale in a flame Wednesday. About twenty-five conversions in two days. Ten joined the Church Tuesday night. Bro. W. H. Crawford of Rice, came in to take my place with Bro. Graham. Old Graham is on shouting ground, and using it.

Saw Bro. Allen a few minutes ago. He is just in from one of his appointments. Reports a great meeting; thirty conversions, twenty-two additions.

These are only examples of what is going on in the district.

Our dear Bro. Greathouse, one of the best and most genial of men, has been compelled to stop for a few weeks of rest. He is away at Fayetteville, Ark. A letter from him to-day says: "I am in the home of a lifetime friend. My old family physician says I am full of malaria and suffering from nervous prostration, and that I will have to stay indoors for a week or so." God bless him, is my prayer.

J. T. SMITH.
PRICKETT.—Mrs. A. F. Prickett (nee Starr) was born June 27, 1834; was converted and joined the M. E. Church, South, at the tender age of twelve or thirteen; was married to W. J. Prickett October 30, 1856, and went to heaven October 6, 1900. I speak positively, for she lived a consistent christian life. Her home was the home of the traveling preacher. Oh, how she was delighted to have them stay with her. When the good old camp-meeting times were, she went to the camp-ground and camped, and did her part and got her part of the blessings. The good Lord never passed her by. She had been a great sufferer for more than two years; had been confined to her bed for nearly twelve months. She often expressed a desire to go and be at rest with the blessed Savior. Among the last words that she said was, "I love Jesus." While the home is lonely and her husband and dear son and daughter-in-law and two grandchildren mourn for her, yet she rejoices with her Savior and loved ones in the glory land. We will not mourn as those that have no hope. Look up, dear friends; we will soon go to meet dear wife and mother. She awaits us on the other side.

WHITE.—On the 30th day of July, 1898, a sweet boy baby was born in Tyler, Texas, to H. C. and Itasca Joiner White. For twenty-two months he was the light of their home, and then went up to live with God. Never did a child of his age entrench himself more perfectly in the hearts of his parents. Everything about him gave great promise, and his parents watched his development with great delight, and when he went away they felt that great earthly hopes had perished, but their heavenly hopes survived.

A SILVER WEDDING.

Rev. John Adams, D. D., and his excellent little wife celebrated their "silver wedding" last night in their splendid home on West Ferguson Street, Tyler.

While everything outside and inside the house had been arranged with the utmost good taste, yet there was an utter absence of anything like ostentation or show.

At the appointed hour the guests began to arrive, and for two hours there was the constant clatter of feet and ringing of door bells. Dr. and Sister Adams and their son Langston received in the most easy and informal manner their guests.

Soon the sitting-room and parlors were filled with the culture and piety of Tyler. There were preachers, lawyers, doctors, editors, bankers, merchants, tradesmen and their wives and daughters and manly young men present.

Besides, multitudes who could not be there had written letters and sent kind remembrances. While the notices sent out stated "No presents were expected," yet from the great number found on the table we were let to suppose that no one came who did not bring or send in advance a substantial and beautiful gift in pure sterling silver.

The value must have run into hundreds of dollars. Among many costly things was a beautiful case from State Line Church, containing a very handsome toilet set.

I never witnessed a more beautiful social affair. Dr. and Sister Adams have lived in Tyler almost all of their married life, and to see the loving and tender regard shown them by these people, who have known them all of these long years, was touchingly beautiful and inspiring.

Dr. Adams has been a member of the East Texas Conference all of his preacher life. He has led a life of spotless purity and has unselfishly devoted his great talent to the good of the church. There is not a man who has grown up in the conference whose life he has not helped to shape. He has been presiding elder for the last thirty-odd years, sixteen of them spent on Tyler District, and nowhere on earth is he better loved than here. For twenty-five years Sister Adams had been by his side, helping and inspiring him to success.

Their son Langston, a young man of fine character and business ability, was in from San Antonio to be with them.

They will not likely celebrate their "golden wedding" on earth, but no one doubts but that they will have settled by then in a country that is 'fairer than day' and a city whose streets are of gold. The memory of this happy event will linger with them and their guests through life. Blessings on them for the rest of life is the prayer of the writer.

W. H. M. SOCIETY, LINDALE, TEX.

Whereas, Mrs. Dora Groome Graham has been called to another field of labor; therefore, be it Resolved, By the Woman's Home Mission Society of Lindale, Texas, that we have lost, by her removal to another home, one of our best and most enthusiastic members, and that her loss will be keenly felt by the members of this society. We commend her to the good people in her new field of labor, and may God's richest blessings be showered upon her wherever she may go. God grant that she may be as useful in her new field of labor as she has been in this.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished to the Woman's Department of the Texas Christian Advocate for publication.

MRS. J. F. WILLIAMS, Pres.
MRS. JULIA OGBURN, Sec.

Lindale, Texas.
