The Soiree Dansante To-Night.--The lovers of salutatory motion will be pleased to know that to-night they may enjoy the pleasures incident to the polka, the redowa, the waltz, the lancers, and all the other forms of dance into which the votaries of Terpsichore have woven that art. Mr. Cleveland holds another of his soirees, at Temperance Hall, and there will be, as usual, an abundant supply of the spirit of Terpsichore and a full attendance of its votaries. Good music, without which the spirit of the dance languishes, will lend its charm to the occasion.

Mr. Cleveland is about to begin a new course of lessons, and it is well that those desirous of perfectness in so agreeable and graceful an accomplishment, without which now-a-days, one feels awkward in society, should apply to him as pupils at an early day. "A word to the wise."

Gifts! Gifts! Gifts! Gifts! Gifts!
Splendid Gifts at Titcomb's
Gift Book Establishment,
Southeast corner of Dauphin and Royal Streets.

My new Catalogue of Books contains a full list of Histories, Biographies, Travels, Adventures, Stories, Anecdotes, Tales, Narratives, Romances, Sports and Pastimes; also Religious, Biblical, Theological, Classical, Botanical, and Agricultural Works, Dictionaries, Lexicons, Albums, Annuals and Presentation Books, Receipt and Cook Books, Bibles, Hymns and Prayer Books in very style of Binding, together with all the

Newest Works

of the day; all of which are handsomely Bound and Guaranteed Perfect in every respect.

In purchasing of us, the Book Buyer has nothing to lose, and everything to gain; for the Gift System, as originated and conducted by us, is no lottery, as many have been prejudiced to suppose; if it were, there would be a hazard or possibility of loss to the investment, of which there is none. It is known to the purchaser that he is to receive an equivalent for his money; the Book selected is furnished at the price which is demanded by all booksellers, and if ten or more are taken at the same time, at LESS than the regular price. Aside from this investment, which returns an equivalent, a present is made with each purchase, which, be it worth fifty cents or one hundred dollars, is yet clear gain. Thus is a taste for healthy instruction and amusement, surrounded with additional attractions, and books of sterling interest and value are scattered far and wide.

The Gifts

Consists of--Gold and Silver Watches, Gold Chains, Silver Plated Ware, Costly Setts [sic] of Cameos, Mosaic, Florentine, Coral, Garnet, Turquoise and Lava Jewelry, Gold Locket, Pencils and Pens, Ladies' Neck and Chatelain-Chains, Gents' Bosom Studs, Sleeve Buttons and Pocket-Knives, and a thousand varieties of Gifts of use and value.

We also keep constantly on hand a choice collection of Silver-Plated Ware; also a beautiful assortment of Fancy Goods and Cutlery, wholesale and retail.

For full particulars send for Catalogue, which will be mailed free to any address by Coaxing Up an Expression.--A brace of lovers anxious to secure each other's shadow ere the substantial faded, stepped into an ambrotype car one day last week, to sit for their pictures. The lady gave precedence to her swain, who, she said, "had got to be tuck fust and real natural." He brushed up his tow head of hair, gave a twist or two to his handkerchief, asked his girl if his collar looked about X, and planted himself on the operator's chair, where he assumed the physiognomical [sic] characteristics of a poor mortal in a dentist's hands, and about to part with one of his eye teeth. "Now, dew look purty!" begged the lady, casting on him one of her most languishing glances.

The picture was taken, and when produced it reminded the girl, as she expressed it, "jist how Josh looked when he got over the measles!" and as this was not an era in her suitor's history particularly worthy of her commemoration, she insisted that he should stand again. He obeyed, and she followed him to the chair.

The poor fellow tried to follow the indefinite injunction.

"La," she said, "why, you look all puckered up!"

One direction followed another, but with as little success. At last, growing impatient and becoming desperate, she resolved to try an expedient which she considered infallible, and exclaimed:

"I don't keer if there is folks around!"

She enjoined the operator to stand at his camera; she then sat in her feller's lap, placing her harms around his neck, managed to cast a shower of flaxen ringlets as a screen between the operator and her proceedings, which, however, were betrayed by a succession of amorous sounds, which revealed her expedient. When this billing and cooing had lasted for a few minutes, the cunning girl jumped from Josh's lap, and cried to the astonished operator:

"Now you have got him! Put him through!"

Tabac en Poudre Dentifrice.
Oco or Dental Snuff

Is not introduced to the American public, composed of the purest Snuff, divested of its objectionable qualities, and retaining its power as a disinfectant and detergent. It has the endorsement of the Parisian world as the most useful and elegant toilet article in the world. Elegantly mounted. Superbly flavored. As an ornament and as a toilet pleasure, it has no equal.

Notice.

No. 1—Golden Banded Oco—Retains all its natural strength and pungency, as imported, and is a most superior article for those who desire an agreeable stimulant. It imparts to the teeth that peculiar brilliancy for which the ladies of southern Europe are so justly celebrated.

No. 2—Silver Banded Oco—Designed expressly for the Northern market, retains all its powers as a dentifrice; though greatly reduced in its stimulating properties. As a Gem on your toilet stand you will be pleased with it, and for its excellency you will recommend it.

Fashions.

The "opening of the Spring fashions (says the Boston Post) took place in New York on Thursday. The weather was unfavorable, but we learn from the New York papers that the ladies in attendance at the different establishments were numerous. It appears that the SKIRT, for the coming season, will be the most expensive part of a lady's dress, nothing less than a fully trimmed skirt being considered en regle. The greater the number of flounces that can be put on a dress, the better; so, of course, the taller a lady is, the finer she can be, and tall ladies will be all the fashion this summer. Where the material is too heavy for flounces, or individual taste is opposed to them, matters may be compromised by a brandebourg passamenterie trimming, arranged en tablier upon the front of the skirt, which, however, necessitates a similar trimming up the corsage. The female mind of New York is just now most profoundly agitated upon the bonnet question. The spring bonnets resemble in shape the cottage bonnet, worn years ago, only that the front does not set quite so close to the face. They are thought to be decidedly pretty, and if not carried to an ugly extreme in size, will be pronounced the prettiest worn in a long time. The last year's fashion ran on at the back of the head--this year, says the New York Times, it threatens to run quite over the eyes. The front projects nicely over the top of the head, yet stands out sufficiently from the face to enable a lady to dress her hair as she may like. The cap, or soft crown, seems to be a great favorite, but plain ones are much worn. Rich flowers and illusion will be largely used in trimmings. Among other novelties is the "Patti shall [sic]," which is made of rich black silk, a flowing pattern, having a double point behind, and variously trimmed. Flounces will be so much worn this season it is thought that a shall [sic] of this kind will be needed; it is described as not large, and sets out prettily, giving full [fold in paper] to the dress. There are a variety of pretty new sleeves, the capuchias and the half [fold in paper] sleeve being among the most conspicuous. Some modistes tried to introduce the narrow-gored skirt and tight-fitting sleeve this season, but the effort, says the Times again, happily for taste and beauty, failed. The New York Journal of Commerce, which is great on tables of imports and exports, has no politeness for the "making and trimming" part of the business. It dismisses the important event of Thursday with the following brutal paragraph:

"The milliner's semi-annual 'opening' was to have taken place yesterday, but the unseasonable weather caused a postponement. This occasioned exhibition of head toggery gives a queue to the fashions throughout the country."

The Skater's Valentine.

Her heart is like a frozen lake,
 On whose cold brink I stand;
Oh, buckle on my spirit's skate,
 And take me by the hand;

And lead thou, loving saint, the way
 To where the ice is thin,
That it may break beneath my feet,
 And let a lover in.

An Irishman on Broadway

 Sure I'll agree,
 'Tis fine to see,
The darlings show their paces,
 All along Broadway,
 St. Patrick's day,
In the glaming skirts and laces.

 I love the sight,
 Whin spotless white,
Of petticoats embroidered,
 Each little fut,
 From out them put
Like laves of lillies bordered.

 But at this date,
 That mighty strate,
From Grace spire unto Astor,
 Bespatters dirt,
 On every skirt,
Like pepper from a castor.

 Fie on you, dears,
 Of tender years,
Who show no more discretion
 Such streaked hose;
 And ruined clothes,
Exciting admiration!

 There's Madame Vic,
 Of nonsense sick,
Knows better how to dress her;
 The kirtle red,
 She wears instead;
The Howly Virgin bless her!

Or else bedad,
Of highland plaid--
(I'm Irish but I love it.)
She makes a skirt,
That scorns the dirt,
And loops her gown above it.

Then here's the gall,
With the Balmoral,
And dainty top boots slender,
Who's as discreate,
As she is swate,
And wise as she is tender.

The Smoking, Chewing and Snuffing Business.--. . . The manufacture of cigars is quite a business institution in our city, and it is estimated that there are at least 1,000 cigar manufacturers in Philadelphia. . . In the manufacture of snuffs there are four mills that employ 50 hands, and have a capital invested of $80,000. Smoking tobacco is cut in the snuff mills, and also by mills devoted exclusive to that purpose. The product averages 5,000 pounds per day, worth 10 cents per pound of $150,500. The cigar, snuff and tobacco trade is estimated to $6,000,000 per annum--which, not to count the immense sums invested in the imported weed, is all spit and sneezed away, or ends in smoke, without a single remunerative good accruing from its consumption.--Philadelphia Pennsylvanian.

Ladies' parlor skates are noticed for sale in Boston. They are made to all appearance like ordinary skates, but have in the runners little brass wheels, neatly covered with leather, so that the wearer can skate over an ordinary floor with ease and safety. It is said that ball room skating is to be the rage at the watering places this summer.

As to partners.--Hints for the ladies on this point are given as follows:--For whist, the cleverest and most indulgent; for dancing, the handsomest and most amusing; for business, the steadiest, the wealthiest, and the most attentive; and for marriage--one who combines the qualities of all the three.

Mems for the Misses.--"Cry at a wedding. Scream at a spider. Never leave your curl papers in the drawing-room. Drop your handkerchief when you are going to faint. Mind you are engaged if you don't like your partner. Abjure ringlets on a wet day. It's vulgar to know what there is for dinner."

Wool Trade in Dallas.--The Dallas, Texas, Herald says:

Some idea may be formed of the extent of this important branch of industry from the quantity that is brought into Dallas every week. One house alone has already purchased 12,000 pounds, of excellent quality, and other houses are doing a heavy business in the same line. It is believed that not one half of the quantity raised in Dallas county has yet been brought to market; and several lots of merino wool, we know, have yet not been sold. This is fast becoming one of the most lucrative branches of the industrial interest of Northern Texas, and one that is attended with as little loss and as few casualties as any other.

Buzz! Buzz! Buzz!
Mosquitos! Mosquitos! [sic]

These annoying little pests are effectually driven from any apartment in a few minutes by burning one of the Chinese Mosquito Tapers.

These Tapers in burning give off a pleasant odor, although perfectly harmless to the human family, it is extremely repulsive to the Mosquito tribe; so much so, they will immediately leave any apartment, if it is possible so to do; and if the room be closed so as not to admit of their egress, they will be so affected as to destroy all disposition to sing, buzz or bite, rendering them inoffensive for the night.

These Tapers are done up in neat packages of sixteen Tapers each, one of which is sufficient to clear a room of ordinary size for the night.
