The Fort Worth Chamber Orchestra, under the direction of John Giordano, will be presented Tuesday, Oct. 28 by the UT Tyler-Tyler Junior College Cultural Arts Series. The performance begins at 7:30 pm. in Wise Auditorium.

An added attraction this year will be the appearance of 16 year-old Paige Roberts of Tyler, who will perform Mozart's Concerto in F Major, K59, with the orchestra.

The ensemble of virtuoso players, in addition to numerous state engagements, has performed in New York's Carnegie Hall and has toured the People's Republic of China, Hong Kong and Mexico. Giordano, who has served as chairman for the Van Cliburn International Piano Competition since 1973, was named Texas Christian University's Alumnus of the Year in 1980 and has an honorary doctorate in fine arts from Texas Wesleyan College.

Artist series to be presented

Two special art programs -- the Visiting Artists Lecture Series and the new Second Friday Art History Lecture Series -- will bring nationally known painters, printmakers and art authorities to UT Tyler.

"These two series bring to Tyler six of today's finest artists and critics. Their works represent an outstanding variety of art forms, from prints to sculptures in steel, with lecturers ranging from an authority on the Renaissance period to the painting talents of native Texan Ancel Nunn," said Donald Van Horn, Department of Art chairman.

"Ancel Nunn Talks About Ancel Nunn" will open the Visiting Artists Lecture Series at 10:30 a.m. Monday, Oct. 27 in BUS 158. The noted painter will be followed by printmaker David Conn in January and sculptor Edward McCullough in March.

Nunn, who currently resides in Palestine, is recipient of such honors as the Texas Alliance Award and the Chicago '76 Certificate of Excellence. His work is represented in many private collections and Texas museums, including the Lyndon B. Johnson Presidential Library in Austin, the Institute of Texan Cultures in San Antonio and the Contemporary Art Museum in Houston. Nunn's paintings were the focus of a recent Texas Sesquicentennial exhibit at UT Tyler.

The Second Friday Art History Lecture Series, cosponsored by the Department of Art and Friends of the Arts, will present "Renaissance Art" by Linda Hults, Nov. 14; "Impressionism" by Mary Vernon, Dec. 12; and "Contemporary Issues" by Susan Freudenheim, Jan. 9.
